All a Mistake

Her husband said their marriage "was a mistake" and a Los Angeles court affirmed that verdict when it granted movie actress Ann Sheridan, above, a divorce from hubby Edward Norris. Norris said he was sorry he married her. Ann testified, and she seems happy that they are "unmarried" now.

20 Killed In Airplane Crash

SOEST, Germany, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Twenty persons were killed today in the crash here on an airliner bound from Brussels to Berlin.

All except three of the 16 passengers boarded the plane at Duesseldorf, an intermediate stop. All were believed to have been German. They included a man and wife and their three children.

The cause of the disaster was not known. Inhabitants of the district said the plane seemed to break up in mid-air and fall in fragments through a cloud ceiling 1000 feet high. Some fragments were 1000 feet from where the plane fell.

The plane, a Savoia type, belonged to the Belgian S. A. B. E. N. A. line.

Thumbs Ride-In His Own Car

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Jack Maier was depressed as he walked home from work. He would have been riding, he reflected, if his car hadn't been stolen last week.

Hopefully Maier thumbed for a ride home. Surprisingly he got it. Amazingly it was his own car that picked him up. Cleverly Maier directed the driver to the police station where officers helped him recover his car.

NAZIS LAUNCH ANTI-MARXIST CAMPAIGN IN SUDETEN AREAS

BERLIN, Oct. 10.—(UP)—Operatives of the Gestapo, the Nazi secret police, have started a campaign to clean out "Marxists, traitors and other state enemies" from the German-occupied Sudetenland area, it was disclosed today.

The official news agency said, being placed at the disposal of the army would cooperate with the secret police. Special headquarters are to be inaugurated at Dresden for dispatch of a picked police force for the occupied area, police to be under army authority.

Aid Czechs Retreat

Today was the deadline for occupation of ceded Sudeten territory by Germany under the Munich agreement, and it was indicated that by tonight all new German territory might be taken over. A United Press correspondent in the field with the army telegraphed that German army trucks were

High Court Denies Mooney Plea

BLACK, REED DISSENTING

BULLETIN
SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Cal., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Thomas J. Mooney, whose conviction as San Francisco's 1916 Preparedness Day bomber attracted international attention, conceded today that his last legal course for freedom from prison apparently was closed and said he may ask American union labor to combine in joint "political-economic action" in his behalf.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The Supreme Court today refused to review California state court decisions denying freedom to Thomas J. Mooney, serving a life prison sentence for conviction on a charge of participating in San Francisco's 1916 Preparedness Day bombing.

The high court's action apparently terminates finally legal action in one of the most celebrated civil liberties fights of the century. Mooney's petition to the high court was regarded as a last resort in his battle to have the conviction reversed.

The nomination on the court order list, denying the petition, said that Justices Black and Reed dis-

HIGH COURT AGREES TO HEAR TAX CASE

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The U. S. Supreme Court today agreed to hear arguments in the appeals of the Southern Pacific company and the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company from Northern California federal district court decisions approving application of the California use tax to property allegedly used in interstate commerce.

Both companies, in separate cases, contended that the tax as applied in their cases was an unconstitutional interference with interstate commerce.

The tax is three per cent, and in effect is levied in return for the privilege of using materials.

Claim Illegal Tax

Both firms contend that materials used in the interstate and intrastate businesses were so inextricably mixed it would be impossible to segregate the intrastate materials for the purpose of computing the amount of tax, and that the entire tax therefore was illegal.

They brought suit in district court.

Police Capture Escaped Maniacs

UKIAH, Cal., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Two criminally insane inmates who escaped from the Mendocino state hospital were back in their "escape proof" ward today after submitting peacefully to capture.

The men, Alvin Osten, convicted San Francisco murderer who was suffering a delusion he had been fed human flesh, and Leo Redoni, former Santa Clara county burglar, were found less than 10 miles away.

They were armed with a shotgun and a pistol which they had obtained by breaking into a private home but made no attempt to use them when surrounded by a sheriff's posse.

The men made a key from a toothbrush, wire, string and wax and opened and shut five doors leading from the ward for the criminally insane to escape Friday while a moving picture was being shown. They scaled two high fences to complete their escape.

CRASH HURTS FATAL TO SANTA ANA MAN

William P. Woodmas, 60-year-old caretaker at the Masonic Temple, here, became the county's 51th traffic victim of the year when he died at 6:45 a. m. yesterday in county hospital as the result of injuries received in an accident August 17.

Last year at the same time, 71 persons had been killed in Orange county traffic.

Mr. Woodmas was injured on the evening of August 17 at 17th street and Bolsa Chico road, two miles west of Westminster, when cars driven by George C. Stout, 37, Santa Ana, and Felix Hefflin, 28, Norwalk, collided. He suffered a skull fracture, fractured pelvis and fracture of both legs.

Mr. Woodmas, native of Maxon, Kansas, came to Santa Ana nine years ago to make his home. He was survived by his wife, Mrs. Ethel C. Woodmas, one son, Marlin P. Woodmas, both of Santa Ana, and George C. Stout, 37, Santa Ana, and Felix Hefflin, 28, Norwalk, collided. He suffered a skull fracture, fractured pelvis and fracture of both legs.

FRESNO, Cal., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Officials of the California council of the blind today planned to seek the approval of Secretary of Interior Harold Ickes on an application for $54,000 in WPA funds to construct an annex to the Berkeley school for the blind.

The council adopted the resolution which ended here last night. Delegates also passed a resolution to the state legislature urging that no discrimination be shown in civil service examinations against persons totally or partially blind seeking employment in blind agencies.

Dr. Richard French, superintendent of the Berkeley school and Robert V. Chandler, superintendent of the state industrial home for the adult blind in Oakland, addressed the delegates.

Escape Death In Train, Truck Crash

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Oct. 10.—(UP)—A truck driver and nine persons aboard a single car Sacramento Northern Railway train were only slightly shaken and bruised today as the result of a collision and derailment of the train west of here yesterday.

The train struck the heavily-loaded truck and trailer driven by Roy Lay of Colusa county and slowly toppled over the edge of the 30-foot track embankment. Motorman Roy Titler and Conductor J. C. Taber said the passengers were able to brace themselves because the car turned over slowly, thus averting serious injury or death.

More than 40 feet of track were torn up, the trailer was demolished and the front of the car crushed. Service was restored in a short time. The train was enroute from Woodland to Sacramento.

Helping Board Get Low Down On Rail Wage Dispute

The board, named to inquire into the wage and dispute between carriers and railroad employees after the workers had voted a strike, heard Tom Davis, above, counsel for the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, charge a proposed railroad wage cut was aimed at a general wage slash for all workers.

Supporting the railroads' demands for a 15 per cent wage cut, A. F. Cleveland, above, traffic vice president of the Association of American Railroads, told the board that railroads, unlike some industries, are not able to discontinue operations when demands for service fall off.

M.W. Clement, president of the Pennsylvania Railroad, told the President's commission that his $100,000-a-year salary is $50,000 less than he got in 1929. The board has 30 days to make its report, after which 30 days must elapse before carriers can cut wages or workers go on strike.

Changes In Wagner Act Demanded At AFL Parley

CONVENTION HALL, Houston, Tex., Oct. 10.—(UP)—The American Federation of Labor convention today demanded nine sweeping changes in the Wagner act and ordered a showdown with President Roosevelt in the U. S. Senate over his reappointment of Donald Wakefield Smith to the National Labor Relations Board.

The action came after President William Green vigorously assailed the National Labor Relations Board's administration of the act, insisted upon changes in its personnel and demanded a "square deal" under the New Deal's major labor agency.

Ask Mooney Pardon

Previously the convention had gone on record unanimously demanding an immediate pardon for Tom Mooney, serving a life term in a California prison in connection with the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing in 1916.

The delegates will give their reply later in the day to Mr. Roosevelt's appeal and the demand from Daniel J. Tobin, head of the teamsters, that labor "make and keep the peace." It will come on the report of the resolutions committee on that report of the executive council dealing with the rebel Committee for Industrial Organization.

THROAT, WRISTS SLASHED, MAN'S WEIRD TALE PUZZLES POLICE

Booked for "investigation of robbery, kidnapping and grand theft," in the Long Beach city jail, James R. Cute, 25 of 2252 Electric avenue, Anaheim Landing, was held today while Seal Beach and Long Beach police attempted to clarify his strange story, following his capture at 2:30 a. m. yesterday after an alleged suicide attempt. Two youths, whose names police gave as John and Joseph White, 17 and 14 years, respectively, of Talbert, were being held by Long Beach police as material witnesses.

Cute was apprehended by the police when he entered Bob's and Che's cafe, 2500 Coast Highway, early yesterday morning and demanded medical attention. His throat and wrists had been slashed, superficially, with a razor blade, officers stated.

Given hospital treatment, the suspect is alleged to have stated he robbed William Gasper, service station operator at 800 East Tenth street, Long Beach, late Saturday night, and after taking $15 from the victim, forced both Mr. and Mrs. Gasper, into the car and then fled in the machine.

When police began checking his story, he told a rambling tale of having returned to his own cabin at Anaheim Landing and there finding the other two youths, whom he declared, pointed a revolver at him and forced him to mutilate himself with a safety razor blade.

Cody Family In Annual Reunion

HANFORD, Cal., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Members of the famous Cody family from all parts of the United States and Canada were homeward bound today after holding a reunion—the 13th in as many years—here over the week end.

Eighty-five Cody's, all of them relatives of the noted William F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody, attended the two-day session, swapped stories and elected new officers for the family organization.

Luther M. Cody of Frostproof, Fla., was elected president of the clan. Other officers were Maxwell B. Cody, Regina, Saskatchewan, vice president; Ernest C. Cody, London, Ont., secretary-treasurer; and Rev. Canon H. F. Cody, Toronto, chaplain.

Hitler Talk Stirs London

LONDON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—A new speed up in the pace of British armament was forecast today as the result of a speech by Adolf Hitler announcing that Germany, despite the recent Munich agreement, must "at all hours be ready to resist."

There seemed some reluctance in official quarters to comment on the speech, which had been widely pre-announced as one in which German-French friendship would be emphasized.

Instead of friendship, however, Hitler had emphasized that Germany had obtained post-war victories by virtue of her might and must continue to arm herself.

Raps British

Further, the fact that he denounced three outstanding British conservatives as potential enemies of Germany added interest to the possible trend of British leadership in months to come.

Hitler denounced Winston Churchill, fiery leader of the "stop Hitler" section of the conservative party; Anthony Eden, who resigned as foreign secretary because of the government's policy of conciliating the continental dictators; and Alfred Duff Cooper, who resigned as first lord of the admiralty last week because the Munich agreement "stuck in his throat."

Plans Reply

Churchill, regarded by many people as the greatest British orator of his time, said at first today that he would reply to Hitler tonight in a speech broadcast to the United States. Later, however, the British Broadcasting Company said that at Churchill's request the broadcast had been postponed for a few days.

CZECHS READY TO CEDE TO HUNGARY

KOMAROM, Czech-Hungarian Frontier, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The Czechoslovak delegation to the conference here with Hungary said today it was ready in principle to cede to Hungary the border territories which are predominantly Hungarian in population.

The Czech delegation declared, however, that the ethnographic map on which the Hungarians based their territorial claim does not correspond to the present racial situation, and made a counter-proposal based on a current map.

Study Proposal

The Hungarians thereupon obtained adjournment of the conference until tomorrow to examine the counter-proposals. A sub-committee of experts are appointed to examine the two maps and try to find a compromise.

Hungary nominated Count Teleki, ethnographic expert, as its chief representative on the sub-committee.

Before today's session opened, the Czechs, in a friendly atmosphere, surrendered two zones on the border to Hungary as a gesture.

"War" Feared By Fishermen

Fear of a war among fishermen was expressed yesterday at Newport Beach and Balboa following reports of a shooting at sea off the coast at San Onofre.

Fred J. Ulip told Newport Beach police that he and a boy passenger on his boat were struck by pellets from a shotgun wielded by an unidentified commercial fisherman. Ulip said he was struck in the shoulder and that the fisherman threatened that if Ulip failed to leave the fishing spot at once, he would be shot again. Since the location of the attack is not under local police jurisdiction, Ulip was advised to take the case up with San Diego county sheriff's officers and the San Diego district attorney.

11 SAVED FROM DEATH IN SEA

SEAL BEACH, Oct. 10.—Eleven persons were taken from the sea here yesterday when a half-rigged whale boat from the U.S.S. Quincy, cruiser anchored in battleship how, San Pedro, overturned one and one-half miles off Seal Beach at 2:30 p.m. A twelfth member of the sailing party, Ensign W. S. Brown, of the Quincy, swam ashore to seek aid.

Seal Beach police, notified that a sail boat had overturned, called on the Long Beach life guard service for aid, the latter agency immediately dispatching the "Rescue" to the scene.

As the speed boat arrived, Ensign Brown reached shore at the foot of 77th place, in Long Beach, and phoned Long Beach police, who in turn notified the coast guard service, which sent a cutter to the aid of the victims.

Local authorities were advised that the sailing party was made up of seven officers and five women friends and relatives. Equipped with air tanks, the boat did not sink and the victims were able to cling to it until help arrived.

RECORD SHATTERING COTTON CROP LOOMS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The agriculture department today forecast 1938 cotton production at 12,212,000 bales, an unexpected increase over the estimate made a month ago.

The indicated increase of 387,000 bales over last month further complicated a surplus cotton situation which has depressed prices and caused growing dissatisfaction among cotton farmers who are demanding higher government loans on their crop.

All Time Record
The forecast indicated an all time record supply of more than 25,000,000 bales of cotton this fall. The carryover from last year's record crop of 18,946,000 bales will total approximately 13,000,000 bales, the department reported.

The increase over the Sept. 1 estimate was due, the board said, to generally favorable picking conditions over virtually the entire cotton belt. Favorable picking conditions raised the estimated yield per acre from 21.1 pounds on Sept. 1 to a near record of 22.1 pounds on Oct. 1.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION MARKS EFFORTS IN FIRE PREVENTION

In conjunction with the observance of national fire prevention week, Mayor Fred C. Rowland today issued a proclamation that urged co-operation of all Santa Ana in the efforts to eliminate hazards and stimulate interests in safety.

The proclamation follows: "Fire losses in the United States each year not only destroys hundreds of millions of dollars worth of property but thousands of human lives as well. The precious lives, many so prematurely ended, can never be replaced by any human agency. Property values thus destroyed are subject to replacements entailing heavy losses.

"The city of Santa Ana like other cities suffers its proportionate share despite the fact that most fires can be easily avoided. Defective wiring, bad flues, rubbish heaps and individual carelessness are the most frequent causes of conflagrations.

"In view of the increasing recognition that fire is largely a preventable evil, proper carelessness with fire hazards would greatly reduce such a regrettable loss of life and property, and every effort should be made to relieve the people of this huge toll.

"Now, therefore, I, Fred C. Rowland, mayor of the city of Santa Ana, do hereby designate and proclaim the period from October 9th to 15th, 1938, as Fire Prevention Week, and I most earnestly urge that all civic organizations, business associations, school authorities, and all other bodies interested in public welfare, assist in furthering this important occasion, and that they remove rubbish and litter and other hazards about their homes and places of business, and that they adopt the personal habit of carelessness to the end that our city may be made a safer and better place in which to enjoy life.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the city of Santa Ana to be affixed this 5th day of October, A. D. nineteen hundred and thirty-eight.

(Signed) FRED C. ROWLAND, Mayor of Santa Ana

HOLD EVERYTHING!

"Oh, Albert, isn't that cute? They're welcoming us with one of their folk dances!"

General Hugh S. JOHNSON SAYS

SALISBURY, Md.—The President's message to the A. F. of L. seemed to suggest that labor consider annual salaries and continuous employment as preferable to high hourly rates and part-time jobs.

There has recently been a great deal of eager discussion of this in industry. If it could be applied to the building trades, for example, it could so far cut the cost of housing as to start the long desired construction boom.

The difficulties are very great. In any manufacturing operation that is "seasonal"—one which does much more business at certain periods of the year than at others, as most of them do—peaks and valleys of actual employment are certain. One suggestion that is being studied in industry is that employees be classified in three grades—A, B and C.

A is the group of workers who, through seniority and efficiency, are always kept in slack seasons anyway, about 50 per cent of the peak crew. To these is guaranteed a monthly salary, averaging present earnings.

Grade B, about 25 per cent of the remainder, are also hired by the year and paid every month, whether they work or not, but their total annual salary—and hence their monthly payment—is no more than average of what they earned on part-time work at hourly rates unless they work more days than average.

Grade C, is "floating" labor to be hired and paid by the hour as at present. This method is in practice at one large plant. I have seen a careful study of exactly how it would work out in a large coal mining company. It doesn't seem to me to be any solution, and if it were offered to me as a workman, I would rather resent it as bunk.

Men in grade A know they are going to be kept and paid anyway. They gain neither security nor pay. Grade B gains nothing in pay. The only security it gets is to have the employer manage wages, withholding some when the plant is active and, when times are slack, advancing what was held back. Grade C is offered nothing new.

There is one company that is on a straight yearly salary basis but it has a diversity of work that offers continuous employment.

In organizing and starting WPA in New York City, I tried to get skilled building trades—brick-layers, masons, carpenters, etc.—to employment. I didn't think so because the deals were entirely different. Their wives and families didn't think on the air and appealed to the home-folk. In spite of the strike order hardly a corporal's squad stopped work. But Washington changed its mind and we went back to the prevailing hourly rate. Looking backward, I think Washington and the workers were right. As the construction industry is now organized, it could not guarantee continuous salaries to more than a handful, because construction jobs are never continuous in any one place. Only such government constructions as WPA could make it work.

In spite of its great attraction this proposal has a pretty dreary prospect. Labor would probably object to any classification and grading of workers. On the other hand, if it had any aspect of fulltime pay for half-time work, industry couldn't stand the increased drain on its reserves and consumers couldn't stand the increased costs.

16000 AUTOMOBILE WORKERS RETURN TO PLYMOUTH PLANT

PET TALKS

BY MRS. T. J. NEAL

Did you ever wonder how the Eagle happened to be selected for our national bird? When our early colonies decided to have a national bird, there were several kinds mentioned; among them the eagle, the beautiful Oriole and the Meadow Lark. Then the Turkey was mentioned, and Benjamin Franklin became its staunch supporter. In his plea for the recognition he stated, "In truth, the Turkey is, in comparison to the Eagle, much more respectable bird, and withal a true native of America. He is, besides, a bird of courage and would not hesitate to attack a grenadier of the British Guards who would presume to enter his farm yard." But the American Eagle was chosen, and the turkey still remains for the Thanksgiving table. Who would want to eat the national bird, anyhow?

Greenwich Village is noted for its cats, and it is considered the cat haven of New York. It is said there are more cats in Greenwich per square block than in any other area with the exception of the water-front. However, there are not many strays or homeless cats. The Humane Society has the backing of the state and is well able to take care of surplus stock. It is quite the fashion in Greenwich to go strolling down the by-ways with a cat attached to a red or blue ribbon lead much the same as one leads a dog.

The American Legion Auxiliary is sorry to announce the postponement of their dog show held yearly about the 15th of October. A one-day show would bring about 500 dogs, and Santa Ana hasn't a building available at the present large enough to bench that many canines. It is hoped something will develop for a spring show.

Baseball Mourns Death Of Lane Of Padres

SAN DIEGO (UP)—Pacific Coast league baseball men today mourned the death of Bill Lane, 78-year-old owner of the San Diego ball club.

He died yesterday of a heart attack induced by the excitement last August of seeing his team win a 16-inning game.

Lane entered baseball 30 years ago in the old Union association, a Rocky Mountain circuit. In 1915 he took control of the Salt Lake club, then a member of the Coast league. He sent Tony Lazzeri to the New York Yankees from Salt Lake. Later Lane moved the team to Hollywood, then to San Diego. Lane was born in Baton Rouge, La. In early life he was a newspaperman and a lawyer. He made a fortune gold mining in South Africa, Korea and Alaska.

In Germany it is considered good luck to touch a pig on New Year's Day.

Hitler's Talk Stirs England

Long in opposition to the coalition government, Churchill has foretold in his speeches every development in major European policy during the last few years. He demands that the country be armed to the hilt. He is 63, but as much a power in British politics as he was 20 years ago.

Newspapers of every party affiliation urged today, in comment on Hitler's speech, that the government speed up its armament program as the result of the German leader's "warning."

Seek Mediation
The government started the groundwork in cooperation with France for eventual mediation in the Spanish civil war.

It was emphasized that plans were only in the starting stage. But it was understood that the government hoped that after all foreign troops had been withdrawn from Spain—and provided that they were withdrawn in full—there might be a joint effort by Great Britain, France, Germany and Italy to arrange an armistice. There were reports that an international commission now in Spain, headed by British secretary of the Spanish non-interference committee, would sound out the insurgents on the possibility of peace talks.

Man Slashes Throat, Wrists

The White youths were interrogated and, are alleged to have charged Cuts with menacing them with a revolver and then to have used the razor blade himself, forcing them meanwhile to watch his alleged effort at self-destruction.

Later, becoming frightened, Cuts, the Whites say, ordered them to get out towels for him and they fled through a bathroom window under the pretext of preparing bandages, taking a gun said to have been Cuts's with them.

"So involved is the whole thing that it will be two or three days before it can be checked and verified," the local officers declared today.

Cuts's condition, according to Long Beach police surgeons, is not serious.

Seek Suspect In Murder Case

PHOENIX, Ariz., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Search for a "blond young man," suspected as being the slayer of Virgil A. Vaughn, Baldwin City, Kan., salesman, whose body was found nearly seven weeks ago in a desert wash near Safford, Ariz., was being conducted today by G-men.

Vaughn's body was identified here yesterday from dental charts. The federal men stepped into the case because of the probability of violation of the national motor vehicle theft act and the law against flight to avoid prosecution.

Harmony Lacking
The speech which Hitler made at Saarbrücken yesterday was interpreted here as an indication that while he thought that the acute phase of the recent Czechoslovak crisis had passed he felt that complete harmony was far from achieved.

He announced that he would demobilize the reserves which swelled the army to a total of 1,500,000 men but coincidentally announced the extension of the system of fortifications opposite France. He made no mention of any possible disarmament agreement, he showed irritation at criticism of Germany in democratic countries and he warned that three outstanding British political leaders—Winston Churchill, Anthony Eden and Alfred Duff Cooper—were potential enemies. He drew a clear line between Germany's relations with Premier Benito Mussolini of Italy and her relations with Great Britain and France. Mussolini was called "our only real friend."

Wagner Act Changes Urged
"Its primary consideration has been directed toward unwarranted assumption of great powers, reaching out and grasping for more and more jurisdiction, until the rights and privileges of free trade unions have been invaded, usurped and denied," the report stated.

The manner and method of administering the act has brought administrative justice "into disrepute," the committee said.

It recommended the changes, which, along with the report, were accepted without a dissenting vote.

Nome, Alaska, is farther west than Honolulu.

WPA WORKER SLAYS SON, TRIES SUICIDE

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Six-year-old William Cordova died at the county hospital today from a slashed-in skull suffered last night when his father, James Cordova, 29, Mexican WPA worker, hacked him and his brother, Richard, 3, with a hatchet and then attempted suicide by slitting his own throat with a razor.

Hospital attendants said Richard's condition was "very, very poor." The father was not expected to live.

Before lapsing into unconsciousness, the elder Cordova told police "it was my duty to do this."

Domestic Worries
Officers said he became mentally deranged from worry over domestic affairs. He was estranged from his wife, Tillie, 25.

After hacking his two small sons with the hatchet as they lay sleeping in bed, Cordova rushed to the house of a neighbor and shouted, "I've just killed my children."

He then returned home and gashed his throat and body with a razor. Police found all three bodies in the same room.

Order Arrests In Pamphlet Case

Mention's Statement
Mention issued the following statement in connection with the complaint, which was signed by his investigator, Robert Sandon:

"Because of the fact that there is so far no definite evidence establishing the identity of the person or persons responsible for the writing, delivering to the printers, or paying for the printing of the pamphlet, and in the belief that these men must have some information more than they have divulged, I have taken this course, to obtain the definite information which we require."

"In order for the grand jury to indict, it must have all the evidence before it. This is not required in the case of the present proceeding."

Witness Missing
"It has been reported that one of these men has disappeared, and for that reason, also, I am filing this complaint, in order to have a charge pending as quickly as possible to determine the facts."

The grand jury heard four witnesses at its morning session today. First was a man identified by courtroom observers as Charles R. Moore, detective in whose car was placed the bomb near the home of Judge James L. Allen Thursday night.

Next was a man who limped, and who was identified by courtroom rumor as Eddie Taylor, employee of the distributing concern, one of the defendants in the complaint filed by Mention today.

Last to go into the grand jury room were Chief of Police George Franzen, of Orange, and W. O. Hart, Orange publisher.

Court Denies Mooney Plea

Specification of the dissents was almost unprecedented in the recollection of veteran court observers. Only avenue now remaining to Mooney, it was believed, is a further plea to the executive branch of the state government for a gubernatorial pardon.

His petition to the high court charged that the state supreme court refused to overrule his conviction on the grounds that it did not have jurisdiction. The petition asserted that it had become an accepted fact that his conviction was brought in largely on the basis of perjured testimony.

The court's order on the Mooney case said:

"6.—Mooney, vs. Smith, warden of San Quentin penitentiary. The petition for writ of certiorari in this case is denied. Dismissing: Mr. Justice Black and Mr. Justice Reed."

Ordinarily the order list does not indicate in any way the position of the justices in agreeing or refusing to hear a review.

The state opposed a high court review of the case. In a brief replying to Mooney's petition, it asserted that the petition contained "absolutely false" charges against the state supreme court.

The state's brief said the petition "deliberately misstated the evidence in an attempt to deceive the court."

The petition originally was filed on Jan. 27, but high court action was delayed by mechanical difficulties in preparing the voluminous records of the case and inability of the justices to peruse the record in time to act on the case last term.

The case had been brought before the high court twice before, but on each occasion the tribunal refused to review it on technical grounds. The first time was shortly after his conviction, when the court merely refused to issue a writ of certiorari, without explanation.

The second time was in the 1934-35 term, when Mooney applied for a writ of habeas corpus. The tribunal refused to issue it on the grounds that he had not exhausted his remedial possibilities in state courts.

Mooney was indicted in connection with the death of Hetta Knapp which resulted from explosion of a bomb during the 1916 Preparedness Day parade in San Francisco, and convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment.

His fight gained momentum during the following years and various civil liberty organizations took up the battle. It was taken into state courts following the high tribunal's 1935 decision, and after investigation by a referee the state supreme court last year ruled it did not have jurisdiction and dismissed the habeas corpus writ.

The petition charged that evidence of the four principal witnesses at his trial—John McDonald, Frank C. Oxman, Melbie Edeau and Sadie Edeau—was perjured, and that the conduct of the trial had violated the due process cause of the federal constitution.

PLANS NATION-WIDE STRIKE IN PROTEST
SAN DIEGO, Cal., Oct. 10.—(UP)

A nation-wide strike, to paralyze all industry, was suggested today by Assemblyman Paul Richie, as a protest to the refusal of the Supreme Court to review the Tom Mooney case.

Richie, assemblyman from the 7th district in San Diego, led the fight for Mooney's pardon during the past two years and at a special session of the legislature.

"I would be in favor of calling a strike of 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 men with the cooperation of the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O.," Richie declared.

Richie said he planned to contact labor leaders for their opinion of the strike proposal.

High Court To Hear Tax Case

the petition of six major motion picture distributors for a review of the third circuit court of appeals decree prohibiting them from enforcing contractual prohibitions against showing their films as part of double feature programs.

The circuit court's decision in the case affirmed a decree issued by the Eastern Pennsylvania federal district court which found that the prohibition by the six distributors was a "concerted action in violation of federal anti-trust laws."

The litigation was instituted by two Philadelphia motion picture exhibitors, Harry and Louis Perelman.

Distributors named in the decree were Vitaphone, Inc., RKO Distributing Corp., Paramount Pictures Distributing Corp., Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Distributing Corp., Fox Film Corp., and United Artist Corp.

Charge Interference
The company contended that because it conducted its manufacturing business entirely within the state of Illinois and did not even have an office in California, its submission to the use levy was an illegal interference with interstate commerce.

A three judge district court, however, ruled that offices occupied by the firm's two commission salesmen in California constituted company offices in California and ruled that the state could force the company to pay the tax on Felt and Tarrant computers sold in the state.

WILL HEAR STOCKYARD RATE CASE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The Supreme Court today agreed to hear argument in the government's appeal from a district court decree providing for distribution of $585,000 impounded during litigation in the now famous Kansas City stockyards rate case.

The money was impounded in the Western Missouri federal district court during litigation over validity of rates proposed by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace for handling of livestock at the yards.

"Vital Defect"
The case achieved nationwide attention last April, when the high court ruled that failure of the secretary to give the cattle handlers an opportunity to file objections between the time Wallace's agents made preliminary findings in the matter and final promulgation of the rates, was a "vital defect."

That decision was interpreted as a warning to quasi-judicial government agencies that in their proceedings they must give strict attention to established rules of fair judicial proceedings.

FILM COMPANIES LOSE DOUBLE FEATURE CASE
WASHINGTON, Oct. 10.—(UP)—The Supreme Court today denied

A nation-wide strike, to paralyze all industry, was suggested today by Assemblyman Paul Richie, as a protest to the refusal of the Supreme Court to review the Tom Mooney case.

Richie, assemblyman from the 7th district in San Diego, led the fight for Mooney's pardon during the past two years and at a special session of the legislature.

"I would be in favor of calling a strike of 2,000,000 to 3,000,000 men with the cooperation of the A. F. of L. and the C. I. O.," Richie declared.

Richie said he planned to contact labor leaders for their opinion of the strike proposal.

JIMMY ROOSEVELT STARTS LONG REST

HOLLISTER, Calif., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Having recuperated on a $4.85 world series gambling loss, James Roosevelt, the president's eldest son, today began a two-month recuperation of his health on the 20,000-acre Paicines ranch of Walter P. Murphy, Chicago multimillionaire.

The younger Roosevelt and his party arrived from the east with reports that Roosevelt and Charles McKenzie Schwartz, New York investment broker, had spent yesterday making small bets on the outcome of the world series game.

Set On U. S. C.
Roosevelt said he lost a total of $4.85 in small amounts as the Cubs went down to defeat but others in the party said he made it all back in one sum by wagering on U. S. C. in the Southern California team's football game with Ohio State.

Murphy met the group at the Oakland Mole and took them to his ranch which legend says inspired Richard Walton Tully to write the manuscript of the famous romance, "Rose of the Rancho."

Secret service men took up positions at the gates of the ranch, their presence indicating Roosevelt would remain more or less in seclusion during his stay.

When a new commissioner took office, however, he reversed the prior decision, held that the refunds should not have been paid and demanded that Fairbanks return the entire amount.

The complex dispute involved Fairbanks' method of reporting income derived from redemption, in 1927, of bonds of the Elton Corporation he held. The bonds were redeemed prior to maturity and Fairbanks paid taxes on the full amounts he received for them—$1,600,000 in 1927, $156,000 in 1928, and $150,000 in 1929.

Later, it was found that he should have deducted from the returns on these sums the amount he originally paid for the bonds. As a result, the commissioner of internal revenue in 1932 refunded

Lansdell Gallops 83 Yards • • • Whoa, Mr. Paulman • • • Broncos Get Rough Ride

Here's the thrill of the Southern California-Oregon State thriller at Columbus, O. Granville Lansdell Trojan back, off on an 82-yard return of a punt in the fifth play of the game for the first Trojan score. Lansdell's accurate passing and running also figured largely in the Trojan 14-7 victory over a pre-game favorite Buckeye eleven. Seen also are Bartsch, Ohio (17); Kreuger, USC, (62); Zadworney, Ohio State, (6).—Acme Telephoto.

And there went the hopes of Stanford for a long gain when they thought the way was paved for a Paulman gain in the second quarter of the Stanford-Washington State game at Palo Alto. Karl Giguere, Cougar fullback, the gent with the agonized expression on his face, has a goodly hold on Paulman's thigh and knee. Stanford won this one, 8-0.

Santa Clara, one of the Pacific Coast's best football aggregations, looked pretty good in its game against Texas A. and M. at San Francisco, but their rivals looked pretty good, too. In fact, Santa Clara didn't find the Texans the pushover that was expected but at the end of the game the scoreboard read: Santa Clara 7, A. and M. 0. Here is what happened when Jim Barlow, Bronco back with the ball, thought he was off for a big gain. He got only three yards before Price (45) spilled him. No. 35 is Anahu of Santa Clara, 43 in Gunther of SC; 63 Coston of Texas.

DONS, SAINTS GIRD FOR LEAGUE OPENERS

FOOTBALL PLANS MILD SHAKEUP FOR POMONA

Coach Bill Foote today began the unenviable task of rebuilding his "Sinning Saints" football team—with only five days remaining before its first but most important game of the Citrus Belt league season.

Pomona's Red Devils, red hot favorite to win the conference championship, invade the Municipal Bowl here Friday afternoon. Santa Ana took the league title last year by upsetting Pomona, 6-0. In the hope of repeating, Coach Foote intends to make several last-minute changes. It will be a mild reorganization but nevertheless a shakeup, because Foote was thoroughly disgusted with the showing his team made in losing to Huntington Beach last week, 13-7.

Changes under consideration are: (1) shifting of Left End Barney Robinson to his old station at quarterback, where he played last season; (2) shifting of Tackle Bob Webb to guard to strengthen the Saint "middle" which was man-handled by Huntington Beach and will come in for a greater test from Pomona's crashing fullback, Harry Karns; (3) thorough examination of Howard McMillan, Bill Meyer and Orval Tatum, three new tackles; and (4) moving of Ralph Schallenger to first string center. If McMillan and Meyer make good as tackles, further experimentation is possible.

Captain Gene Hamaker is expected to return to the Saint batting order this week for the first time since mid-September. A knee brace has been rigged up for the star left half and he is a clinch to be in there as long as his ailing leg holds up. Without Hamaker, the Saints haven't had a semblance of an offense, Foote believes. Hamaker's presence might prove the difference between victory and defeat.

Assistant Coach Joe Koegler, who scouted Pomona at San Diego last Saturday, reports the Red Devils are fully as strong as last year when they lost only to Santa Ana.

"They have a tremendous threat up the middle in Fullback Karns, a brilliant end-runner in Little France Monnie, and several good passers and kickers," says Koegler. Karns is the red-headed end who was picked as all-Southern California prep fullback last year. San Diego beat Pomona, 14-7, making its winning touchdown in the last three minutes of play on a pass.

Denio Beats May And Wins President's Cup

Charles (Chuck) Denio, a golfer who learned the game as a caddy on the course of the Santa Ana Country club, years ago, became holder of the President's Cup today. This is a trophy presented by President R. A. Emison and is emblematic of one of the club's major tournaments.

Denio nosed out 16-year-old Douglas May, one up, in a 36-hole final round yesterday. Denio's medal score was 76 and 75. May posted 75 and 77.

Bill Low and Frank Cory meet in the finals of the Defeated Flight this week and Mrs. Paul Hall plays Mrs. L. H. Robinson for the Women's President Cup. Low last week ousted Dean Collier while Cory was putting away Jack Colburn.

Results of Saturday's best ball of partners' match play: William Rohrbacher and Frank LeFeber, one up; Pat Kelley and J. W. McCain, one up.

WEST WINDS HERE AND THERE IN SPORT

OLIVER'S TEST COMING

Although Coach "Tex" Oliver issues a solemn warning that his squad is not deep enough in reserves to go through the season "without several defeats," the Santa Anan has unquestionably "caught on" at the University of Oregon.

Already, the bandwagon boys are talking Rose Bowl and hailing Oliver as the savior of Oregon's waning football prestige.

This, of course, is ridiculously premature . . . as the next three weeks are likely to prove. Our Man Oliver comes up to a rather severe test—and a drain on Oregon's meager line reserves—in successive games with Stanford, Fordham and U.S.C.

Oregon plays at Stanford Saturday (quite a few of Tex's well-wishers here are going up to Palo Alto for that one) and then they ask him to take his team to New York to meet Fordham and rush back the next week to battle S.C. in Portland. I look for Oregon to take care of Stanford but I doubt if he returns from Fordham and S.C. will be as favorable. Even if Oregon should upset the Rams I'm afraid the hard-hitting Fordham defensive outfit will leave his gang physically unfit for another tough session with the improving Trojans.

After the S.C. contest, Oregon meets in succession Idaho, California, Washington and Oregon State. That will be in November, and in November all Oliver-coached teams reach their peak. I believe Oregon has a chance to win all of those games—even that with California.

How Oregon football fans received Oregon's unexpected win over U.C.L.A. is indicated by a few odds and ends from Billy Stepp's column in a Portland paper:

"Some 7000 fans got a taste of Coach Tex Oliver's brand of football down at Eugene Saturday on Hayward field and when the 60 minutes of thrills were over the folks staggered homeward limp and jittery. Wow! What a ball game. 'Oregon 14, UCLA 12 . . . that was the final, but words fail when we say 'twas so close that many left wondering if it was 14 to 14 or was it?'

"Both teams went onto the battlefield Saturday with the result leaving the winners as 'dark horses' for New Year's invite to the Rose Bowl, representing the west, and that's the way it stands. Of course, the Ducks still must beat or hold Stanford, California, U.S.C., Washington and Oregon State to get the date on Jan. 1, 1939, and that's not impossible.

"Oliver's strategy and Houdini style of play is gonna make the Ducks something to worry about in this man's football conference . . . it's the best football machine in the Eugene mansion of knowledge since Bezdek and his boys were roaming the turf, knocking the ears of all opponents.

"Oregon has something in that fellow Oliver . . . he'll bring 'em back alive and make Oregon one of the threats to national gridiron prestige in years to come . . . put that down in the book and call me if I'm wrong."

Craft Improved; Recovery Hoped

Making the greatest battle of his career, Arthur Craft, all-conference guard on Santa Ana junior college's football team in 1935, was reported today to have a good chance to recover from a serious blood poisoning, which caused physicians to despair of his life last week. The former Don athlete passed the crisis yesterday. Several blood transfusions have been administered to help fight blood poisoning caused by an infected boil.

CRITICS AGREE CUB MISTAKES DECIDED SERIES

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK—(UP)—The story of the 1938 world series is that the Chicago Cubs beat themselves. The Japanese have a word for it—hara kari.

You can talk all you want to about the prowess of the mighty Yankees but when you get through you have to admit that the National league champions committed suicide. It was be sacrilegious to doubt the potency of the triple world's champions but the facts speak loud and insistent, Cubs' mistakes proved the vital factor in every one of the four games.

Here's how the Cubs dug their own grave game by game:

First Game—Phil Cavarretta's ill-advised throw to third base trying to head off Gehrig on Bill Dickey's single in the second inning, which permitted Dickey to take second. With runners on third and second, the Cub infield was drawn in and Billy Herman booted an easy roller. When the inning was over the Yankees had two runs, in which one mental and one mechanical error were the important factors. The Yanks' third run resulted from a high pop fly hit by Dickey which Demaree, playing badly out of position in view of the fact that a stiff wind was at his back, was unable to reach. Score 3-1, and every Yankee run aided by Cub mistakes.

Second Game—The details are horrible in this game. Shortstop Jurgens and Third Baseman Hack Collier, going after a dribbling grounder hit by Gordon which went for a double, and permitted two runs to score. Left fielder Reynolds added more grief by lingering in his position and not backing up the play. Without those two runs, the Yanks would have gone into the eighth training, 3-0, and Crosetti's homer with one one wouldn't have put the crusher on Dean. Dizzy still would have had one run to spare and Hartnett could have rescued him.

Third Game—Going into the Yanks' fifth with a 1-0 lead, Clay Bryant had held the Ruppert Rifles hitless. With two out Gordon hit a long fly to left, and to the amazement of everyone in the stands Reynolds came charging in for the ball. When he finally saw it, it was too late and the ball barely fell into the stands for a homer. Left field boxes say the ball landed in the stands by only a few feet and that Reynolds might have caught it. In the fourth game Demaree caught almost the same kind of a fly hit by Gordon, with his back against the stands. Even if Reynolds hadn't caught the ball a try for it might have saved Bryant much mental anguish and prevented the youngster from blowing sky high.

Fourth Game—Three unearned runs in the second inning wrecked Bill Lee. With two out, Hoag hit an ordinary grounder to Jurgens who fielded the ball and then threw wild to first. Hoag was safe on a play which should have been the third out. Gordon and Ruffing followed with singles and Crosetti banded a triple, with three runs pouring in. Even Crosetti's triple might have been handled by more adept fielding. Later in the game Demaree made a much more difficult catch on Gordon's long fly. With the Cubs still in the game trailing by only one run, 4-3, "Tex" Carleton uncorked a wild pitch which allowed a runner to score from third. Then Crosetti hit a puny pop fly to left and the slow Demaree couldn't get up in time and it went for a cheap double. Two more runs.

As the series was played the Yanks deserved to win. They outclassed the Cubs, were surer and smarter on defense, took advantage of every break and played heads-up baseball. But the fact remains that the Cubs beat themselves.

More than one American expressed the opinion that the Yanks did not play up to their championship form of the regular season, which is just as well for the Cub. "Bucky" Harris, Washington pilot, believes the Cubs would have been easy marks for the five top American league clubs the way they played in the world series.

200,833 Suckers Pay To See Cub 'Bushers'

By HENRY McLEMORE (United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK—Howdy sucker! I mean you and you and you and you and all of the other 200,833 easy marks who paid genuine money to see four baseball games which were advertised under the name of "world series."

Sport is not sport unless it is a contest. To make a contest you must have two good teams or two bad teams. David and Goliath works out only in the Bible. On the best day the Chicago Cubs ever saw (and I'll bet you even money they never saw a best day) they couldn't carry the news to Jake Ruppert that his Yankees had knocked their heads off.

Remember all the brave statements the Cubs made before the series? Remember how Hartnett said "this is a tough gang that can't be stopped?" In his heart Hartnett must have known that his team would be lucky to lead by one run in one inning. In short I think Hartnett and his boys were taking you guys for suckers.

Certainly if they know anything about baseball they didn't entertain any hopes of winning. Looking at it man for man, as I did several weeks ago when I said that the series would not be worth 15 cents of anybody's money, the Cubs are children and the Yanks are men.

Golden Bears Again Loom As Bowl Team

By JAMES A. SULLIVAN (United Press Staff Correspondent)

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Football fans are getting ready to send applications for Rose Bowl tickets to the University of California already, although the 1938 Pacific Coast conference season is still in the first quarter of the schedule and California hasn't met a worthwhile foe to date.

Washington, pre-season favorite, has not won a game. U.S.C. appears in an in-and-out. Oregon doesn't seem to have the depth of material or the punch. And little can be expected from U.C.L.A., despite its success to date. Stanford, Oregon State and Washington State are at their weakest in years.

The picture which brings California into the front rank should take more definite form this coming weekend when the eight teams play the full round robin program of four conference games.

California takes on U.C.L.A., surprise team which accomplished its latest upset Saturday by beating Washington, 13-0. The Bears had a holiday, butchering the California Aggies, 48-0, and College of Pacific, 39-0.

U.S.C., trotting back home after a surprise 14-7 win over Ohio State, goes against a crippled and impotent Washington State eleven. Coach "Babe" Hollingbery's squad

PASSES GIVE GAELS WILLOWICK SHARES WIN OVER LOYOLA TEAM MATCH TITLE

LOS ANGELES—(UP)—The Gaels of St. Mary's went home to Moraga today with their third victory in three years over the Loyola Lions of Los Angeles. It was a hard fought 14-7 win made possible by the dead shot passing of Halfback Ed Heffernan, a sophomore from Bakersfield.

After three quarters of a tight battle between two powerful lines, Heffernan brought 50,000 spectators in the Coliseum to their feet yesterday with two heaves that put the ball on the Loyola two-yard line, soon after the final period opened. Fullback Herb Smith plugged it over.

Heffernan stole the backfield show from the much ballyhooed Mike Klotovitch.

PENN. JACKSON MIX TONIGHT AT O. C. ARENA

Wayne Penn, the "dynamite kid" from Seal Beach, is facing the toughest opposition of his entire career tonight when he climbs through the ropes of the Orange County Athletic club to meet Jesse James Jackson. He is also having his first shot at a top spot position on the card.

Penn is a dynamic fighter with a punch in either hand and is the cleverest amateur boxer in Southern California. In addition he is said to have a terrific punch.

In the second half of the double main event, Tony Castillo of San Bernardino is fighting Johnny Frietas of Wilmington. Frietas, a tough clugging type, is the only boy to beat Fernie Baca at the O. C. A. C.

In the semi-windup Bob Olson of Wilmington meets George Hill, Sherman Indian Institute, at 137 pounds.

Other bouts on the card are: Best Duran, Santa Ana, vs. Clyde Alexander, San Bernardino, 130 pounds; Bob Blake, Santa Ana, vs. Chuck Raily, San Bernardino, 160 pounds; Al Placentia, Santa Ana, vs. Uly Davis, Sherman Indian Institute, 140 pounds, and Bob Southern, Laguna Beach, vs. Ernie Baron, San Bernardino, 160 pounds.

As for the pitching staffs, all I can say is that more Cub pitchers passed in review than Pershing reviewed in 1917.

Let us stop and give the Cubs back to Wrigley and Ford Frick on the outside chance these gentlemen will have them.

GRIMES OUT AS DODGER LEADER

NEW YORK—(UP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers announced today that Burleigh Grimes would not manage the team in 1939 but said his successor had not yet been selected.

Larry MacPhail, general manager of the club, said in a formal statement that the decision "was reached with great reluctance."

"The Dodgers will have a new manager," MacPhail's statement said. "I told Grimes on Sept. 1 that no decision about the 1939 manager would be made until after the close of the season and that he was free to make another connection."

These men are under consideration for the managership: Frankie Frisch, former manager of the St. Louis Cardinals; Jimmy Wilson, former manager of the Philadelphia Phillies; Leo Durocher, Brooklyn shortstop; Charley Dressen, who managed Nashville last year; and Bill Killefer, who was manager of Sacramento in the Pacific Coast league.

TUSTIN, ANAHEIM TO PLAY IN BOWL FRI.

Friday night's Tustin-Anaheim high school football game has been definitely booked into the Municipal Bowl, it was announced today following a conference of Coaches Russell Wilson of Tustin and Dick Glover of Anaheim.

With Santa Ana jaysee traveling to Citrus, this will enable county-seat fans to attend a nocturnal contest at home.

Santa Ana high school plays Pomona at the Bowl in the afternoon.

The PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON (Sports Editor, NEA Service)

As clever as the Yankee combination of Frank Crosetti and Joe Gordon is, the Cubs don't figure to lose the world series around second base.

The firm of Bill Jurgens and Billy Herman also is a model of synchronization.

Generally considered the three most valuable Bruins of the year are Bill Lee, Stan Hack, and Herman Reynolds, but Jurgens and Herman have been the backbone of the outfit since they clicked together under Rogers Hornsby in 1932.

Crosetti and Gordon led Jurgens and Herman in double plays, but Hornsby's six-year-old appraisal of Jurgens is still far from wrong.

"He covers more ground and makes more stops and faster and more accurate throws from any position than any shortstop you can name," remarked the Rajah.

Hornsby's judgment, vision, and encouragement was responsible for Herman, for whom the Cubs paid Louisville $50,000 in 1931.

Jurgens and Herman are closer to one another than any other two members of the organization.

"Gabby" Hartnett is the bubsome and inspirational leader, but Jurgens and Herman are the real scrappers of the outfit.

Jurgens and Herman "get them guys out," as Dizzy Dean says, and are better hitters than their averages . . . 248 for Jurgens and 273 for Herman . . . indicate. They are the principal reasons why "Ripper" Collins considers the National league champions the slickest defensive club in the game.

Jurgens and Herman gave the Cubs a highly geared twin motor.

CASTOFF REYNOLDS SERIES HEADLINER

Mike Kelley of Minneapolis still wonders why American league clubs waived Carl Reynolds to the Millers in 1937.

There was talk of the Cubs appealing to Judge Landis when Reynolds reported toward the end of last season with aches and pains that rendered him practically valueless.

But Philip K. Wrigley doesn't go in for that kind of business, as he demonstrated in the celebrated case of Dizzy Dean, and Reynolds, too, rewarded the chewing gum magnate for his sportsmanship by patience.

So to find the remarkable American league castoff patrolling center field in a world series and the No. 2 batter on the Cubs' roster with .304.

And rated with Lee and Hack as one of the three most valuable Chicago athletes.

Reynolds, who spent years in the American league, asserts that the National may be a little slower, but he couldn't be certain.

"The American league has more good backgrounds out of which to pick a star," explains the Texas cotton merchant. "The National has more shirt-sleeve bleacher backgrounds, like that at Wrigley Field."

"Then, too, the National league has Bill McKeechie. He kept the infield wet while he was in Boston, so hits wouldn't go through on the ground. He's carried the idea to Cincinnati. His own men are trained to hit over the wet area."

Hartnett agrees with Reynolds on the McKeechie-soaked infield. "It slows your ground ball almost to a stop," testifies Old Tomato Face.

Tony Lazzeri is the only player in memory who was fifth an American league champion and a National league champion in consecutive years. "Poosh 'Em Up has an idea that 'Tex' Crosetti and Larry French would bother the Yankees more than Lee, Bryant, and Dean . . . Carlenton because of his butterfly stuff . . . French because of his left-handed screwball. . . . Lee is expected to be effective. . . . He is big and strong . . . has a whistling fast ball . . . and one of the best curves in the game."

He no longer is vulnerable with men on bases. . . . French muffed winning his 150th major league victory and became a 10-year man on the final day of the campaign. . . . The Chicago southpaw lost 19 games with a pennant-winning outfit . . . the worst performance of his career . . . but has good reason to take it philosophically. . . . "If you gotta have a bad year, this is the kind of a club to have it with."

He had planned a 12-story apartment house at Santa Monica.

JAYSEE SQUAD WILL INVADE CITRUS FRIDAY

Battered and bruised from last week's hard-boiled 13-13 game with the U. C. L. A. Frosh, Coach Bill Cook's Santa Ana junior college footballers begin their Eastern conference schedule Friday night against Al Claves' Citrus Owls at Glendora.

The opener bids trouble for Santa Ana.

The Owls are plenty "burned up" at the last quarter 29-0 thrashing handed them by San Bernardino after holding the vaunted Indians to one touchdown for more than three quarters. Coach Cook is not only worried about the game but believes that unless Santa Ana's running attack improves his Dons are in for a lacing.

Three Don regulars are reported out of the Citrus game because of injuries incurred in the Bruin battle. Bill Twist suffered a badly wrecked knee and Lynn Arnett showed up today with an ankle that may give him trouble the rest of the season. Virgil Stevens, a lanky tackle, re-injured his "trick knee" and is out for at least two weeks.

Commenting on the U. C. L. A. game, Cook singled out several reserves as deserving of praise for their efforts. Glenn Cave, who replaced Ted DeVelbiss at end, came in for considerable lauding from the coach. Grover Miller, Don Schmock and Kenneth Gosewisch also received praise from Cook for their efforts in trying to stop Leo Cantor, the hard-plunging Bruin back.

BUDGE AWAIT'S PRO NET OFFER.

BERKELEY—(UP)—Don Budge, apparently "sick and tired" of tennis after winning the Australian, French, English and American singles championships, was reported waiting today for an offer to turn professional.

The young Oakland redhead has previously announced that tomorrow he will give an answer "once and for all" to persistent reports he was planning to trade the glory of being the world's No. 1 amateur for the cash to be made in exhibition matches as a professional.

He was in a mood for some such offer after being knocked out of the Pacific Coast Tennis Championships at the Berkeley Tennis club by Harry Hopman, coach and non-playing member of the Australian Davis Cup team.

Yesterday, fighting a head cold and almost at the point of exhaustion, Budge went into the quarter-finals. The veteran Hopman won 6-2, 5-7, 6-1, after making the 23-year-old world champion make more errors than he ever made before in a local match.

The defeat loosened the red-head's tongue on matters professional and he told Sportspro E. G. Edwards that "I am now waiting for an offer from the east. I hadn't thought much about it for I wanted to wait until after this tournament so I could be in the clear. That's about all I can say now. I'm waiting."

In another upset, Jack Tidball, Los Angeles, eliminated the two-handed Australian, Jack Bromwich, 6-3, 6-4, in a quarter-finals match.

OPEN DRIVE ON WHITE BEETLE

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 10. — A new source of concern for growers of California was announced today by the bureau of plant quarantine, state department of agriculture, in a statement concerning the invasion of certain parts of the United States by the white-fringed beetle which, laboratory tests have shown, will attack nearly all forms of California plant life except the yucca.

Quarantine Sought
The report concerning the latest insect pest from foreign lands to threaten agriculture was made by A. C. Fleury, chief of the bureau, following his attendance at a hearing held by the federal department of agriculture in New Orleans at which California quarantine officials asked that a federal quarantine be invoked at once to augment state quarantines now in effect and also that a program looking toward eradication of the threatening stranger be launched.

In the meantime, the California Department of Agriculture is restricting the importation of nursery stock or other plant products into California from the infested area, eight counties in Mississippi, three counties in Florida, seven counties in Louisiana, and five counties in Alabama. Federal entomologists have said that the area now infested totals approximately 41,000 acres.

Seek Parasites
Federal officials have expressed the belief that the voracious plant eater was introduced into the United States from South America on bones imported for fertilizer purposes. A federal entomologist is en route to the Argentine to discover if there are natural predators or parasites

LARGE WHOLESALE FIRMS TO REFUSE WARRANT PAYMENTS

Warrants won't buy groceries—at least, so far as the large wholesale grocers are concerned. They served notice today on some 7000 retail grocers in Southern California that payments would have to be on a dollar, not a warrant basis, if the 30-Warrants-Every-Thursday scheme is passed.

Ralph R. Brubaker, president of the Southern California Wholesale Grocery Distributors' association, representing 85 per cent of the distribution here, explained:

"A thorough investigation has shown that the banks and the concerns from which we buy supplies will not take warrants. We inquired and they replied very plainly that they had no intention of being paid in warrants. Many of the supply houses are out of the state."

The association, which does an

SWIM HISTORY MADE TONIGHT

The first school of Water Safety Instructor to be held in Orange county, marking a change over from the examiners plan, opens at 7 p. m. today at the Huntington Beach high school plunge with Harold P. Terwilliger of the American National Red Cross staff, in charge.

The instruction will deal with personal safety in swimming, bathing places, personal safety and self-rescue in the use of small craft; drowning and elementary forms of rescue, swimming rescue, recovering a submerged victim, resuscitation, and special forms of rescue.

Qualify As Mentors
The class will conclude Friday night, October 14 after a minimum of 15 hours of instruction. Those who complete the instruction will be certified by the National Red Cross as water safety instructors.

All life saving examiners in the county, and senior life savers who wish to qualify as instructors are invited to attend these classes. The purchase of a text book is the only expense.

International Bridge Opened

PORT HURON, Mich., Oct. 10.—(UP)—Officials of Michigan and Ontario met on the high center span of the new Blue Water international bridge here Saturday and pledged anew the friendly alliance between the United States and Canada.

Dedicating the gigantic $3,250,000 bridge between Port Huron and Sarnia across the St. Clair river, Gov. Frank Murphy of Michigan and Premier Mitchell Hepburn of Ontario viewed the structure as a new bond of friendship between the nations.

LAGUNA REALTOR IS HONORED AT PARLEY

Orange county delegates to the 34th annual state convention of the California Real Estate association Saturday returned from the realtors' parley in San Bernardino with the announcement that C. R. Jones, of Sacramento, was elected president of the organization without opposition.

Roy W. Peacock, of Laguna Beach, was selected as one of 23 vice presidents of the association elected at yesterday's session. As Vice President Peacock will automatically be in charge of the 12th district comprised of realty boards from Whittier and vicinity and all of Ofrance county.

A number of delegates attended various sessions of the conclave headed by Secretary Marie J. Gothard, William F. Croddy, Carl Mock, Rex Kennedy and Van L. Brown.

Brown reported on the activity of the meeting in San Bernardino at yesterday's meeting of the local realty board at the Rossmore cafe.

THERE'S NO POINT IN LETTING NERVES GET FRAYED!

COCKER SPANIEL
Spanyell family dates back to 1386. Cocker is smallest of family. A very popular pure-bred dog in U. S. Standard colors range from solid blacks, reds, to shades of cream; liver red and combinations. Versatile, can be trained into retriever. Great lover of human family.

HE'S GIVING HIS NERVES A REST

...AND SO IS HE

HAVE you noticed how a dog, in the midst of play, suddenly stops and rests? His nerve system—as complicated and high-strung as our own—has signalled that it's time to relax! Man, unfortunately, is less sensitive to the warnings of his nerves. Though nerves may need a restful pause, we are inclined to press on in our absorbing tasks—relentlessly—forgetful of mounting nerve strain. When we find ourselves tense, irritable, upset, we may not even realize why. Don't let tension tie your nerves in a knot. Make it your pleasant rule to break nerve tension often through the day—TO LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Feel how gratefully nerves welcome the mellow intermission that your nearby package of Camels suggests. And not only do smokers find Camel's costlier tobaccos soothing to the nerves—but milder, too—ripe-rich in flavor—completely enjoyable from every angle!

Millions of people who live happily LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL

FLAGSHIP PILOT, Captain Walter J. Hunter of American Airlines, speaks for his profession when he says: "Ragged nerves and flying don't mix. I head off nerve tension by giving my nerves regular rests—I let up and light up a Camel. I find Camels soothing to the nerves."

DID YOU KNOW:

—that the grower of tobacco also cures it—in many cases, in barns equipped to apply heat without smoke? That the planter works day and night until the curing process is completed? Selection of Camel's tobaccos requires the services of men familiar with every phase of growing, curing, and aging choice tobacco. It is well known in the tobacco trade that Camel cigarettes are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

"RUSH ASSIGNMENTS, deadlines, phone calls would wreck my nerves," says New York newspaper woman Estelle Karon, "if I didn't pause frequently. I let up often and light up a Camel. Camels soothe my nerves. I work better—get more fun."

Jimmie Fidler in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD, October 10.—Idol Chatter: There's a perfect double for Robert Taylor in a Sunset Boulevard filling station—wonder how he gets along with the girls? Irene Dunne, in her pensive mood, reminds me of one of Gainsborough's great ladies. Cited for the Croix de Merite: Bette Davis—for paying a $80 hospital bill to prevent a dog belonging to a casual acquaintance from being "put away." Carlo Valente, who claims to have authored platinum blonde hair, now offers giddigirls new effect called "champagne glow."

My statistical department informs me that the average check in a Hollywood nightclub is $7.90 per couple—about one-fourth of the New York toll. With every added year, Douglas Fairbanks Jr., becomes a more perfect double for his famous dad. Ten to one bets: that Deanna Durbin will wear the pants when she marries. Nomination of the most homey, natural actor: Jimmy Stewart. Claudette Colbert's poodle receives a permanent wave every six months.

All food unused on movie sets is rushed to orphanages and charity missions if it is fit for human consumption—if not, it goes to the Los Angeles zoo. Chip off the old block: Victor McLaglen's eighteen-year-old son is six feet, three inches tall—and still growing. The caricatures of men on the Brown Derby walls have individuality and personality: those of women are merely pretty look-alikes. In-a-line descriptions: Oliver Hardy—Aunt Jemima in white-face.

Witnessed an impressive ceremony today in the Twentieth Century-Fox cafe, Don Ameche, just back from a week-end fishing trip, was lunching at his pet corner table when in trouped Arthur Treacher, Jack Haley, Warner Baxter, and at least fifteen of the studio's non-acting celebrities. Stopped before his table, Treacher, their appointed spokesman, gravely demanded: "Don, how many fish did you report catching?" Don looked up in amazement. "None—"

Protection

If you've ever milked a cow or worked around them, you'll know that the supposedly peaceful beasts have a cute habit of lashing out with their hoofs, to the detriment of the farmer's legs and temper. So some thoughtful inventor devised a sort of reversed shinguard, called it an "anti-cow-kicker." Above, comely Alice Anthony demonstrates the device at the recent National Inventors' Show in New York.

MAN STILL SOUGHT ON GIRL ASSAULT

A man who attempted a criminal assault upon a local drive-in cafe waitress recently, is still at large today, police reported.

The girl was en route to her East Tenth street home, walking along North Main street, about 11:30 p. m. when the man, who had been a customer at the cafe, stopped his car beside her and offered to take her home. Instead, he drove to a lonely spot near the Eddie Martin airport and attempted the attack. She struggled and had most of her clothes torn in the fight. The man knocked her temporarily unconscious and dragged her back to his car, she told the officers.

As she struggled and screamed, another car came along with several passengers and her assailant disappeared. Driver of the other car took her home.

Furniture To Be Ranchers' Topic

The Tustin Home department of the Orange County Farm Bureau will meet at the home of Mrs. C. H. Whitney, 326 West First street, Tustin, at 11:30 a. m. tomorrow.

A discussion of various arrangements of living room furniture by Miss Frances Liles will be the highlight of the meeting. Following the luncheon program the group will visit the home of Mrs. Roy Runnells.

COAST GROUP TO INSIST ON JOB

More than 100 members and guests attended the monthly dinner of the South Coast Improvement association, held at the White House cafe in Laguna Beach Saturday evening.

President Richard W. Rowlands of the association, who was chairman, supervised a brief business session, principal item of which was action by the group, authorizing appointment of a committee to urge completion of the South Main street extension from Santa Ana to Corona del Mar.

Will Contact State

Partly finished, with work halted by lack of funds, the project, badly needed, comes within the scope of the state highway department, to whom proper representations will be made by the committee, which includes Dick Gilman, Dr. C. G. Huston of Costa Mesa, and Rowlands.

Principal speaker of the evening Dr. Adamantios Th. Polyzois, famous expert on European matters.

Analyzes European Stage

Introduced by Dr. Carl Sumner Knopf, Dr. Polyzois gave a fascinating resume of conditions in Central Europe, with particular reference to the Slavic group of nationalities. Taking his listeners step by step through the labyrinthian structure of European economics, diplomacy racial clashes and conflicting aims, the speaker drew a vivid world picture of the kaleidoscopic changes now taking place, as the culmination of centuries of turmoil.

A vote of thanks was tendered the speaker, at the close of his address. Several new members were received, being recent accessions to South Laguna's population.

Queen Contest Stirs Rodeo Zeal

Five of the seven contestants for the title of Queen of the Blythe Rodeo, including from left to right Henrietta Dyche, "Toots" Bresson, Betty Lou Rice, Jewell Hodges, and Evelyn Victor, climbed up on a haystack on the Seeley Cattle Ranch to gather a little suntan while the cameraman took their pictures. The contest winner will be awarded a silver trophy and crowned in a ceremony on the evening before the opening of the two day annual event October 22.

SECOND ANNUAL RODEO OF BLYTHE SLATED FOR OCT. 22

BLYTHE, Oct. 10.—Preliminaries for the second annual rodeo and whooperino, scheduled for October 22 and 23, have already included one "hanging" and two incarcerations. An irate posse gathered in the center of town last week, and now a "body" swings from a wire across the street with a rope around its neck, and the simple caption on its back "This man shaved."

Congressman Harry Sheppard and Assembly Candidate Kirkpatrick made the error of appearing in town last week smooth shaven, and both were thrown into the temporary hoosegow installed on a central corner. They could have avoided the embarrassment by paying three dollars for a "Smooth Puss" badge. Any native who appears in town without one minus a beard is subject to fine or imprisonment or both.

A total of $525 will go to winners of the various rodeo events, as well as day money, and additional awards will be announced until the expert riders, ropers and top hands finish their contests. L. M. Young has already announced a consolation prize of $5 to the contestant or cowboy who meets with the hardest luck of the show. W. H. Minerman offers shirts, hats and pants to winners of the amateur events. Riding breeches will be among the prizes for the winners of the bronc riding and calf roping contests.

Incomplete returns in the queen of the rodeo contest show Miss Lucille Caldwell leading the six other candidates, Jewell Hodges, Henrietta Dyche, Evelyn Victor, Grace Vertrees, Josephine Bresson, and Betty Lou Rice. All contestants will ride horses in the rodeo parade, and the queen will be crowned on Friday night preceding the celebration.

STATE ISSUES WALNUT ORDER

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 10.—The director of agriculture today fixed the salable and surplus percentages of walnuts to be sold in intra-state commerce at 80 per cent and 20 per cent, respectively. This order became effective immediately and is similar to a recent order by the secretary of agriculture of the United States covering shipments of walnuts in interstate and foreign commerce.

Action Outlined

The action of the state director was taken under the terms of the California Walnut Marketing order now in effect under the provisions of the California Agricultural Products Marketing act, which superseded the California Agricultural Adjustment act under which the original California Walnut license was issued in 1935.

The order issued by the director of agriculture affects all merchantable walnuts produced and marketed within the state of California. The federal order, issued under the provisions of the Federal Agricultural Marketing Agreement act of 1937, controls the marketing of walnuts in interstate commerce from the states of California, Oregon and Washington.

Board In Control

Under the terms of both the federal and state marketing programs, the salable percentage of walnuts may be marketed in unshelled form, whereas the surplus percentage may not be sold in unshelled form unless for export purposes. The responsibility for the disposal of the surplus walnuts is placed in the hands of the walnut control board, the administrative agency established in the marketing order.

CITY HALL SITE MOVE BLOCKED

A technical deficiency in the referendum petitions filed with the Fullerton city council by opponents of the selection made for a new city hall there, blocked the attempt by that faction to obtain the referendum through a court order, under a ruling just filed in superior court by Judge H. G. Ames.

Judge Ames sustained the city's demurrer to H. H. Knowlton's mandamus petition against City Clerk Fred Hezmalhalch without leave to amend the pleadings. This ruling, in effect, left the petition out of court.

Contention Upheld

The court upheld the contention of Assistant City Attorney Lloyd Verry, of Fullerton, and City Attorney George Holden, of Anaheim, who was associated with the defense, that the referendum petitions referred to two independent actions by the city council, one to purchase the land, the other designating it as the city hall site. Both matters could not be referred to the voters by one petition, it was held.

Thus the complaint made by the petitioner, that City Clerk Hezmalhalch had refused to certify the referendum petition to the council as sufficiently signed, was immaterial, the court ruled.

J. C. Romance
Crowned With Wedding Rites

Quiet but charming in all its details was the wedding Saturday morning at 8 o'clock in the rectory of St. Boniface Catholic church, Anaheim, crowning a Santa Ana Junior college romance for Miss Margaret Denny of that city, and Howard Rash of Balboa.

An intimate little group of relatives and close friends saw the pretty service conducted by the Rev. Father John Quattannens. The bride was smartly attired in a teal blue tulle dress with black fur, and worn with black accessories. Pinned to her coat lapel was a cluster of orchids with stephanotis.

Miss Henrietta Rurup of Orange was maid of honor and also chose a tailored dress with a black pin stripe with other dress details of gardenias. Her corsage bouquet was of gardenias. Harold Mosiman of Anaheim assisted Mr. Rash as best man.

Following a wedding breakfast at Bit of Scandia in Fullerton, the new Mr. and Mrs. Rash took their departure for an automobile trip north to Lake Tahoe and other California points. They will return to a home awaiting them in Balboa, and Mr. Rash will resume his duties with a Newport market.

Mr. Rash is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rash, 1045 West Fifth street, and entered Junior College after graduation from Santa Ana High school. He received a recognition for his athletic prowess, and not only was selected as running guard on the All Southern California Junior College team, but also was an all-conference star. He was prominent in the Jaycee Bachelors and served that campus organization as president in his senior year, 1936.

His bride, who is the daughter of the J. J. Dennis of Anaheim, was equally popular on the college campus and was identified with the Moavs in addition to other interests. She has been complimented at various affairs since the engagement was known, especially among the Junior college groups.

Club Presents Silver
Cup to New Baby

Lambda club members carried out one of the traditions of the organization Friday when they presented a silver cup to little Miss Marilyn Louise Faccou, infant daughter of the Armand Faccou. Mrs. Faccou is a member of the club.

Plans for the presentation were made Thursday afternoon at a luncheon meeting of Lambdas in the home of Mrs. Charles Davis, Anaheim. Orchid flowers and tapers brightened the table, which was set with wisteria glassware. Members sewed during the afternoon.

In the group were guests Mrs. A. Aabel of this city and Mrs. Don Thompson of Anaheim; with members, Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Carl Lykke, Mrs. Carroll Ault and Mrs. Warren Lampman.

Birthday, Halloween
Theme Observed
At Party

Halloween and birthday motifs were combined in details of a festive party Saturday afternoon when Terry Ragan's twelfth birthday was celebrated at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Ragan, 1320 Martha Lane.

Mrs. Ragan had planned a fascinating program which took place in the gardens of the home. All the boys and girls were given a chance to show their skill during a games event, with prizes going to Beverly Givens, Caroline Spicer, George Brown and Kenneth Anderson.

Mrs. Clifford Cole assisted Mrs. Ragan in carrying out arrangements for the party, the second one planned in celebration of the important occasion. The first plans were abandoned when young Terry became ill with the flu a week ago.

Every year since Terry has been old enough to enjoy birthday festivities, he has been the recipient of a birthday cake from Mrs. Joseph Daniger. This year's confection was decorated in orange and yellow to further the Halloween idea suggested by details at a long garden table where guests were seated. Mexican sunflowers as a centerpiece, colorful favors, pumpkin-men as place-cards and other features were appropriate to the occasion.

Terry received gifts from the group, which included the Misses Marian George, Caroline Spicer, Beverly Givens, Eleanor Young, Elinor Herzog, Barbara Neff, Mary Ellen Ball, Shirley Hilliard; with Kenneth Anderson, George Brown, Wendell Cole, Jimmie Davy, Billie Stauffer, Billie Holman, Allan Crawford and Bob Ball.

Mrs. George Briggs Concludes
Autumn Party Series

Last in a series of early autumn parties at which Mrs. George Briggs has been entertaining was a pleasantly informal luncheon Saturday afternoon in her home, 614 North Broadway.

Yellow-plumed coxcomb and white Japanese anemones combined to form an effective centerpiece at the prettily-arranged luncheon table.

Bridge play of the afternoon brought prizes for Mrs. Cecelia Best, Mrs. Arthur Trawick and Miss Mary Andrews. There were a dozen guests to share Mrs. Briggs' charming hospitality.

Wrycende Maegden Club Has House Party

Wrycende Maegden club members assembled for one of their informal houseparties Saturday and Sunday, enjoying the hospitality of the Reader home on Balboa Island. Miss Margaret Stenish and Miss Dorothy Jesse made arrangements for the event.

Present were the club president, Leone Baxter and Laura Fay Thompson, Mary Wright, Joy Townsley, Edith Monroe, Katherine Barney, Katherine Budd, Betty Hoblit, Betty Niedergall, Dorothy Jesse, Janice Yetmar, Margaret Flies, Jean Ema, Roma Mayes, Mary Young, Alice Campbell, Cecelia Plantamura and Imogene McCauley.

Miss Genevieve Humiston, club advisor, and Miss Lena Thomas were present for part of the time. Plans were discussed for club events including Tuesday night dinner at 6:30 o'clock in the Y. rooms. Those whose birthdays occur between June and October will be honored. Mona Summers Smith of the public library will give a book review.

Autumn Bride
Is Presented
Shower Gifts

Because the autumn marriage in Yuma, Ariz., of Miss Martha Dowling and Leslie M. Pollard, came as more or less of a surprise to the many friends of the young couple, the parties that ordinarily would have been planned as pre-nuptial courtesies, have all been given since the wedding. Last of these was a shower of unusual charm, at which Miss Leola Schroeder entertained Saturday afternoon in her home, 2227 Lincoln avenue.

Mrs. Otto Schroeder assisted her daughter in planning the formal tea-guests, and in receiving guests. They had arranged program features to include such appropriate melodies as "Because," "I Love You Truly," and others on the general theme of romance, played by Miss Dorothy Matz, Miss Helen Allison sang "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "The Lass With the Delicate Air." Miss Vera Osborne was her accompanist, and also added several brilliant piano solos to the program, which closed with Mrs. Albert Brubaker's clever monologue, "At the Photographer's."

The tea table, at which Mrs. N. Carleton Smith and Mrs. Henry Marguerat were asked to preside at the handsome silver service, was very lovely in its bridal suggestion. Centering the shining satin damask cloth was a crystal candelabrum and flower holder whose tapers and tiny button chrysanthemums were all white. Flowers garlanding the dining room continued in the white motif, in charming contrast with the vivid hues of blossoms arranged about the home.

Completing the pretty afternoon costume worn by the new Mrs. Pollard, was the corsage cluster of gardenias and chrysanthemums presented her by her hostess, Miss Schroeder. The array of shower gifts which she received during the course of the afternoon, yielded her countless charming things for use and adornment of her home.

In the party with Miss Schroeder and Mrs. Schroeder and their guest of honor, Mrs. Pollard, were her mother, Mrs. Agnes Dowling, and her bridegroom's mother, Mrs. W. J. Pollard of Tustin. Her sister-in-law, Miss Gertrude Pollard came from Los Angeles for the event, and the guests also included the honoree's aunt, Mrs. E. A. Noe, with Mesdames H. Raymond Smith, N. Carleton Smith, Herbert Greenwald, the Misses Helen Allison, Barbara Julian, Bernice Taylor, Evelyn Stutte, Josephine Corwin, Thelma Finnegan, Vera Osborne and Lois Rohrs, Santa Ana; Mesdames Henry Marguerat, Albert Brubaker, Elmer Jenke, the Misses Helen Rohrs, Marjorie Gammeil, Florence Jenke, Irene Wyman, Orange; Mrs. Albert Mittman, Glendora; Miss Dorothy Matz, Torrance; the Misses Eloise Smith and Doris Smith, Norwalk.

Country Club Members
To Play Bridge
Next Thursday Night

Santa Ana Country club's calendar of social events for the month reads much the same as previous schedules, with the exception of the fact that the evening card party this week will take place on Thursday night instead of Friday.

Announcing plans for these approaching events, Mrs. A. G. Flag today explained that the evening party was set for Thursday night because of the college football game on Friday night. Hosts at this week's affair will be Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Poole and Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Scouler. Mrs. Mark Lacy, social chairman for the month, will assist in all arrangements.

Bridge tea will take place Friday afternoon, October 21 at 2 p. m. in the clubhouse, with Mrs. Clyde Walker and Mr. Harold Brown as co-celebrating. Those who wish to have noon luncheon at the clubhouse in advance of the party, are asked to make their reservations soon.

Hosts at next Sunday evening's buffet supper will be Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams and Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Winkler. Mr. and Mrs. H. Birkheimer and Mr. and Mrs. George Osterman will receive at the buffet supper October 23; Dr. and Mrs. M. A. Patton and Mr. and Mrs. Victor M. Walker will be hosts at the Sunday night event on October 30.

For the opening supper party this month, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hanna and Dr. and Mrs. Robert Wade were hosts. Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Hunting and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Bryant of Orange were hosts at last night's buffet supper.

Hostess Plans Bridge
As Entertainment
For Guests

Receiving a congenial group of friends Saturday evening in her home, 1111 West Fifth street, Mrs. Italy Lee introduced bridge as the evening's diversion.

Tables were arranged amidst a profusion of dahlias, some of them immense display blooms and others of the pompon variety. Mrs. Frank Clum had provided some of these lovely flowers.

There was a unique feature in the prize award, for while the hostess totaled all scores separately, prizes in each case went to husbands and wives. Carl C. Thrasher held high among men, and received a handsome billfold, while to Mrs. Thrasher, high among feminine players, went a tall crystal vase. Similar favors, smaller in size, rewarded Mrs. William H. Peterman and Mrs. Rodney Collins, while to Mr. Peterman was presented a keychain, and to Mr. Collins, a double deck of cards. Traveling prize was retained by Frank A. Clum.

Completing the pleasant evening, Mrs. Lee re-arranged card tables with pretty appointments for serving a salad and coffee course followed by French pastries. Her guest group included Mr. and Mrs. Marcus J. Johnson, Newport Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Carl C. Thrasher, Orange Park Acres; Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Collins, Garden Grove; Dr. M. H. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Peterman and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clum.

John M. Hoy's
Bride Honored
At Gala Event

Presenting her new daughter-in-law, Mrs. John McFadden Hoy, to a group of 80 guests, Mrs. W. W. Hoy entertained Saturday afternoon at a beautifully planned tea in her home, 1225 French street.

The marriage of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Julien, 928 Cypress avenue and Mr. Hoy, son of the W. W. Hoy, took place early in the summer. However, it was just a short time ago that wedding announcements were sent out to friends of the two well known Santa Ana families.

Family Group

Various affairs of similar interest have had their setting in the Hoy home, where the charming daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Hoy have joined their mother in entertaining on so many occasions. Mrs. Hugh Tolley (Elizabeth Hoy) and her young son, William of Yuma, Ariz., came for the latest event; Mrs. Frank Finster (Lida Hoy); Miss Wilma Hoy of the home, and Mrs. Eugene MacKenney (Jean Hoy) all were prominent in the hostess group.

In the receiving line were Mrs. W. W. Hoy in roseberry lace and a corsage bouquet of orchid gladioli centered with red roses. Mrs. John M. Hoy in dusty pink moire with gardenias circled with delphinium; Mrs. Julien, wearing Alice blue lace and a bouquet of pink gladioli centered with yellow roses. The bridegroom sent the flowers worn by the trio, as well as the gardenias which added to the charm of the afternoon frocks worn by the other assistants. Mrs. Tolley was in pink with a duobonnet jacket; Mrs. MacKenney in rose crepe; and Miss Wilma Hoy chose deep blue with a silver jacket.

Many Flowers

Flowers throughout the home expressed the same lovely tones as did the frocks worn by the hostesses and their assistants. Dr. and Mrs. Emmett Raitt had sent some of their choice dahlias in bronze tones. Others who evidenced their interest in the occasion by providing flowers were Mrs. John Henderson, who arranged some of the lovely blooms; Mrs. John McFadden, Mrs. Herbert Walker and Mrs. W. D. Finn.

The dining room provided a charming background for the serving of tea, with all details in keeping with a bridal idea. A long low basket of white pompon dahlias and fern centered the table, which was lighted with tall ivory tapers. Pouring at various intervals during the afternoon were Mrs. Finster and Mrs. Tolley; first, Mrs. Herbert Walker and Mrs. Arthur McFadden; Mrs. A. E. Kelly and Mrs. John Henderson.

Assisting in the dining room were the bride's two sisters, Miss Loyce and Miss Barbara Julien, with Miss Evelyn Walker and Miss Maurine Harris.

Residing Here

Guests were interested in learning that the new Mr. and Mrs. Hoy are residing at 315 West Tenth street. The bridegroom, who spent three years near Desert Center with the Metropolitan Water District, recently returned to this community. Now he is with the Flood Control. He is a graduate of Santa Ana schools, including Junior college. It was in high school that the young couple's romance began.

DENNIS W. HARWOOD

News of Dennis Westcott Harwood's arrival Saturday at St. Joseph hospital was received with a world of interest by relatives and friends of the little boy's parents, Attorney and Mrs. Donald Harwood, 202 Orange avenue.

Mrs. Harwood, the former Miss Beth Westcott, is the daughter of W. W. Westcott of Orange, formerly of this city. The baby's paternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. D. A. Harwood, 1102 West Seventeenth street.

One hundred Royal Arch Masons, their wives and families assembled Thursday night in Masonic temple for a fried chicken dinner which opened a series of monthly parties for the group.

H. Glenn Lycan, as high priest of the lodge, supervised arrangements for the function. Baskets of baby dahlias and autumn leaves added to the charm of the tables at which members and their guests were seated. Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jones of the committee in charge were assisted by Messrs. and Mesdames Alex Rex, W. D. Finn, P. E. Lonon, J. E. Gowen, W. W. Wassner, W. G. Pagenkopp, Mrs. Alice Tolhurst and Mr. and Mrs. Lycan.

Miss Helen Holmes of Orange played accordion selections through the courtesy of Blu Note Music company. While lodge members were in session, their wives played bridge. Winning prizes were Mrs. Olive Walsh and Mrs. Earl McBay. Oho scored in contrast. Mrs. W. D. Finn and Mrs. J. E. Gowen, auction.

Announcement was made that Mrs. Maylon Jacobs will be chairman of arrangements for the next affair, Thursday, November 3.

Dinner Party Enjoyed Between Games

That short interval Friday between the afternoon's high school football game, and the junior college game in the evening, was devoted by Miss Marian Mastick, to entertaining a group of friends at dinner in the home of her parents, the M. G. Masticks, 1525 West Seventeenth street.

Returning from the high school game, the girls found a continuation of their interest in sports, in the clever arrangement of the dinner table. Mrs. Mastick had a centerpiece of vivid autumn leaves, in which a football rested. At either end of the table, tall candles were wrapped in school colors to simulate the goal posts.

The Dinsmores
Honored With
House-Warming

Sunday evening, just about the time that Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dinsmore were ready to leave their Irvine ranch home for an informal supper they were anticipating with the H. T. Dunninges, they were more or less nonplussed for a moment, by a sudden influx of guests. But the puzzlement lasted only for a moment, because bringing up the rear of the guest group were Mr. and Mrs. Dunning themselves.

By the time the Dinsmores realized they were being surprised, the laughing guests had taken complete possession of the home, setting up tables, arranging them with linens and flowers, and setting forth an array of toothsome dishes that appeared as though by magic from baskets with which they were laden.

The whole event was in honor of the recently completed and very charming home of which the Dinsmores have just taken possession. They had the misfortune in early summer, of losing their lares and penates by fire. Now that they are again in a delightful home, their unexpected guests chose to be represented there by a graceful big pottery plaque, designed to hold a modernistic flower arrangement in harmony with a beautiful amber glass figurine which is one of the prized possessions of the hostess.

Following the dinner hour and the presentation of the housewarming gift, bridge was introduced. In the group with the Dinsmores were their supposed supper hosts, the Dunninges, Edward H. Halls, Mrs. Sara Johnston Haddon, Lieut.-Com. and Mrs. Irvin F. Landis, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard G. Swales, the C. Mortimer Flums, the Lloyd A. Chenoweth, the Lyman Howes Farwells.

Guests, the Misses Barbara Paul, Charlotte Philbrook, Joan Bray, Helen Jones and Barbara Ann Jennings, later repaired to the Municipal Bowl for the Santa Ana J.C.-U.C.L.A. Frosh game.

Luncheon and Program Shared by Members Of Ebell Section

Luncheon in the Home Cafe followed by a program meeting in the Ebell lounge, was a pleasant affair shared Friday by Ebell Third Household Economics section members as guests of Mrs. A. G. Finley.

Mrs. Finley also provided the chief feature of the afternoon program on Cocktails, by discussing the manner in which different vegetables or fruits might be combined in such manner as to appeal to both eye and appetite.

Members were happy to greet as guests, Mrs. Fannie Rose and two former members of the section, Mrs. Jessie Searles and Mrs. Austin. Mrs. Searles has been absent from Santa Ana for the past few years, but has now returned to Santa Ana to make her home with Mrs. Max Reinhaus.

Section members present were Mesdames F. L. Andrews, C. F. Bennett, A. M. Cox, D. F. Cook, C. F. Crowe, A. G. Finley, W. L. Leiby, E. L. Morrison, F. T. Preble, Clara B. Prince, C. W. Ralston, W. B. Rick, Fred M. Robinson and W. S. Rose.

Pioneer Club Members Have Monthly Event

Mrs. Rita Campbell's home, 808 Garfield street, was scene Thursday afternoon of a monthly meeting of Sedgewick W. R. C. Pioneer club. An intimate little group of members shared the pleasant hospitality.

Mrs. Emma Mosbaugh conducted a business meeting, with Mrs. Campbell leading in prayer. Group singing of America was followed by roll call, with each member responding with an interesting quotation.

Hallowe'en's approach was suggested in decorations for the refreshment interval, when pumpkin pie and coffee were served.

Present with Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Mosbaugh were Mesdames Helen Kellogg Aubin, Elizabeth McLeod, Hannah Huntington, Kate Johnston, Annie L. Arnold and Elizabeth Birkhead.

Mrs. Johnston will be hostess to the club November 3 in the home of Mrs. Arnold, 405 South Birch street. Covered-dish luncheon will be served at noon.

LATENT KNOWLEDGE

"Home again, Susie? That's nice. What did you do in kindergarten this morning?"

"O, nothing."

"Nothing? You must have done something. What did you play today?"

"O, some games. The teacher played the piano and the children marched, and things like that."

"And what did you do?"

"Me? Nothing."

Mother was exasperated. She had hopes that Susie, to kindergarten would make her more expressive. She thought Susie ought to have more to confide, more to share, more to tell. But this was all she could get out of her after three months of kindergarten.

"She might just as well be home in the sandbox for anything she gets out of it," she told father that night.

That is a common enough story. All children, especially the kindergarten and first grade groups, know more, feel more than they can express in language. They are just beginning to use language. They use words, to be sure, but many of them have no meaning for them as yet. And they cannot use words, or connected sentences, to express what they feel and know. Knowledge is stored for a long time before the children have power to put it into words.

That is why the kindergarten and first grade teachers are so distressed by those eager examiners who want to test the progress of the class every month or so. The children do not respond freely to the unfamiliar examiner; they do not catch the meaning of his words. A strange voice, a strange manner, a strange inflection of speech is enough to silence the most intelligent class of beginners. They know far more than they can tell. It is better to take it on trust than to attempt to prove it by tests.

Free and full expression of knowledge is a later development that teachers and parents must wait for in patience. Always, no matter what grade the pupil is, knowledge defies complete expression. It is only when knowledge overflows into the realms of actual experiences that it can begin to be expressed.

Often the history teacher is shocked at the written report of a prolonged and detailed study of a point. "They seemed to understand it thoroughly. They made their maps, made out their topic questions and recited well. Their written reports are something that beggar description. I'd be ashamed to have anybody see them. They would be sure the children had never been taught the point."

Wait. Give the knowledge time to season, time to work its way through familiar trails to experience. Don't give children a test immediately after intensive instruction. Give them time to chew it over, time to work it into thoughts, then into speech and language. The reason they say, "O, nothing," to your question as to what they learned is this lack of time for mental seasoning. Wait.

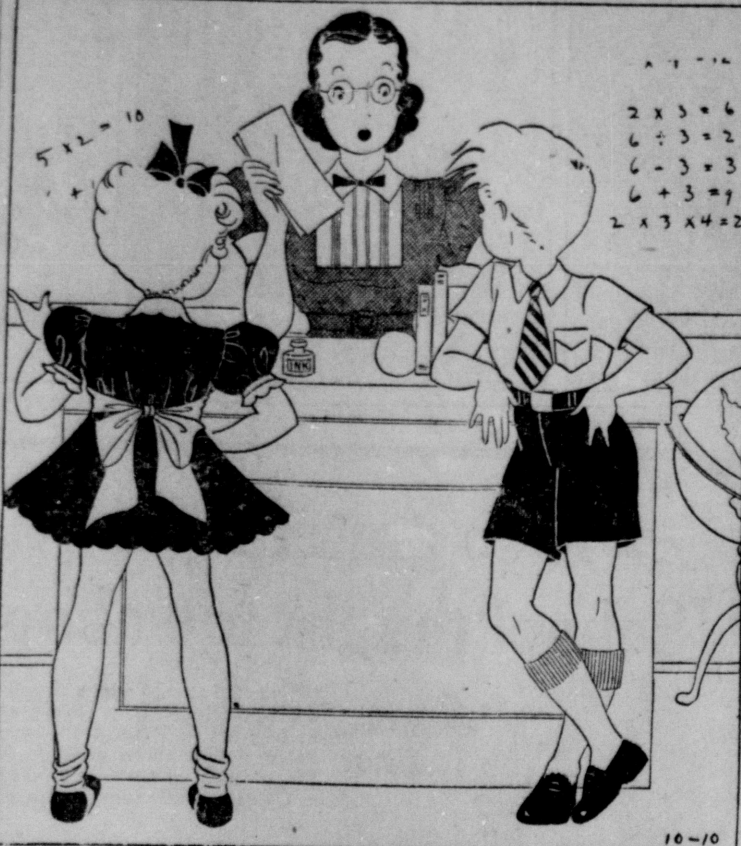

Mr. Patti will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three cent stamped, self-addressed envelope for reply.

Mixing Bowl

BY ANN MEREDITH

The best insurance you can buy for the life of silk stockings, is consistent care of your feet. Ninety per cent of snags are due to rough skin on the side of the foot catching the delicate silk fibers as the stockings are drawn on . . . and it's less than a step from a snag to a big fat run.

After bathing, apply a film of cold cream, or olive oil and lemon juice. Massage feet and legs to the knee and go ahead with make-up, etc. When ready to dress, sit down and rub feet and legs vigorously with a bath towel, draw on stockings neatly, and go on your way with winged feet.

Five minutes care of your feet each day will iron out many a wrinkle and improve your disposition. Try it!

Doctors and dietitians agree on one factor in a reducing diet: the calory intake per day should not greatly exceed 1250 calories. Neither should the total be decreased to any extent if you wish to stay well and peppy. It is on this theory that our Safe and Sane diet is planned. Send for a copy today. (Please enclose return addressed, stamped envelope.)

New Labor Party Swings to Democrats

Republican and Democratic politicians wondering which way the young American Labor Party would swing had their doubts settled on the opening day of the A. L. P.'s first state convention in New York. Democrats won support for the three major offices, the 954 delegates nominating by acclamation Governor Herbert H. Lehman and United States Senator Robert F. Wagner for re-election, and Supreme Court Justice Charles Poletti for Lieutenant Governor. Above, delegates from counties all over the state parade enthusiastically. Pictured below are three leading convention figures, Sidney Hillman (left), President of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers' Union; Elinore Herrick, vice-president of the A. L. P.; and David Dubinsky, President of the International Ladies' Garment Workers' Union.

Celebrated "War Refugees" Arrive Home

Fearing a European war, hundreds of persons rushed aboard the liner Queen Mary at the last minute before she left England, swelling her passenger list to 2112, the largest crowd in the ship's history. Among the "war refugees" was comely June Lang, left, above, of the movies. She said it was her first, and, she hoped, last trip to Europe. Doug Fairbanks, Sr., is shown, right above, having a bad moment with the Great Dane "Marco Polo II." With the former movie star are his wife, former Lady Ashley, (right) her sister, Mrs. Basil Black and Mrs. Black's children, Loretta, left, and Michael.

Eating Up Valuable Time

Reichschancellor Adolf Hitler's entry into his new Sudetenland domains was one of the most triumphant of his career, but at its height it was held up by a dictator even stronger than the Fuehrer—his need for food. So he and his entourage stopped near the village of Franzensbad on the way to Eger, and sat down to an al fresco lunch, cooked in an army field kitchen, and eaten on a roadside amid his soldiers. This radiophoto shows him third from the right. Next to him is Konrad Henlein, new Governor of Sudetenland, and at right, General Keitel, Chief of Staff. The meal delayed the German forces' progress through Sudetenland nearly two hours.

Police Probe Five Texas 'Alligator' Murders

When San Antonio, Tex., police investigated the mysterious disappearance of young women associated with Joe Ball, roadhouse proprietor, they were told by one of Ball's employees that Ball had killed at least five women, fed their bodies to his pet alligators. Above, right, Hazel Brown, a hostess at Ball's roadhouse, whose partial dismembered body was found in a shallow grave; lower right, Ball, who committed suicide when arrested for questioning. Left, a few of Ball's "pets."

Meet 'Captain' Bill Green

Ohio-born William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, goes Texan in a big way as he tries on a 10-gallon hat at the national convention of the A. F. of L. in Houston. The hat was a gift of Gov. James V. Alfred who made Green an honorary captain in the Texas Rangers. In a more serious mood, Green told reporters he favors a proposal by President Roosevelt to mediate the dispute between C. I. O. and A. F. of L.

Buddy Badly Bumped

"You poor darlings," said Mary Pickford to hubby Charles (Buddy) Rogers when he arrived at the Columbus, O., hospital where the former movie star and band leader was taken after his car overturned. Buddy suffered only torn shoulder ligaments, but his anxious wife, one-time "America's Sweetheart," flew from New York to his bedside.

Blames Poker

Meyer Sopher, 23-year-old mess-boy aboard the liner Monterey, admits he's a poor poker player. He sought to recuperate his losses. Federal officers say, with the theft of some $40,000 in gems on the high seas from Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett, wife of the singer. Sopher confessed and the jewelry was recovered.

Still Fighting

Eighty-two-year-old Oberion M. Carter, above, former army captain is making at Cincinnati, O., what may be a last effort to clear his name of a 40-year-old court martial conviction. Carter served five years in Leavenworth prison after years in Leavenworth prison after he was convicted of defrauding the government of funds appropriated for the improvement of the Savannah, Ga., harbor in 1895.

SERIAL STORY

MURDER TO MUSIC

BY NARD JONES

COPYRIGHT, 1938 NEA SERVICE, INC.

CAST OF CHARACTERS
MYRNA DOMBEY—heroine.
Wife of the sensational swing band leader.
ROBERT TAIT—hero. Newspaper photographer—detective.
ANNE LESTER—Myrna's closest friend.
DANNIE FEELEY—officer assigned to investigate Ludden Dombey's murder.

Yesterday Tait and Anne find Myrna in an abandoned cabin and bring her back to the city to face the music. Tait vows to help her until the end.

CHAPTER VII

ALMOST three hours later, just as the little coupe was crossing the north city limits, Myrna awakened on Anne's shoulder. The dawn was breaking into full day, and the spirits of the trio rose with the sun. The black hours in and near that hillside shack seemed to Tait like a bad dream.

He turned to Myrna. "Feeling better?"

"Yes . . . a little."

"Anne and I have decided you should sleep some more, though—in my apartment. Another 20 minutes and we'll be there."

But when Tait arrived at his apartment building he decided that caution would be the better part of valor. Instead of parking near the entrance way, he drove around to the alley.

"I'm going up and have a look. It may be that Dannie Feeley's got suspicious and has someone waiting for my return. You girls sit tight here in the car." He grinned at Myrna. "And I expect to find you here when I get back."

She managed to return a smile. "I'll be here," she said.

Tait hurried up the back stairway of the apartment, slowing down only when he reached his floor. Quietly he opened the door from the back landing into the long hall. To his relief, no patrolling stranger was in sight. Nevertheless he went down the hallway to listen before his door.

shoulders and straightening his collar. "Better call me a guest, Tait. The fact is, I've been here all night." He smiled, not unpleasantly. "You see, I came last night. You hadn't arrived, and I persuaded the janitor that I was a friend of yours. I hope I didn't exaggerate, Tait."

"It's not necessary to exaggerate with the janitor if you've a $5 bill," Tait said.

"I really expected that you'd return—and then somehow I fell asleep in that very comfortable chair. I hope you'll forgive me. But under all the circumstances . . ."

"His voice trailed off, and he made a gesture which said that Tait would unquestionably understand.

"What can I do for you?" Tait was still standing. He was puzzled at Rogers' curious visit, was nervous about the two girls in the car. Suppose they grew disturbed at his long absence, and walked into the apartment to investigate? "I don't want to rush you, Rogers. But the fact is, I've an early appointment."

Again Rogers smiled. "I won't be long. Here's the point, Tait. I've known you for quite a while, and I've always liked you. Somehow I got the impression, down there at the Pacific Plaza last night, that you were interested in this terrible business."

"Interested? How do you mean?"

"Well, curious, then. I can understand that. After all, you're a newspaper man by training. You've been at the finish of a lot of things like this. But this is one that I wouldn't get worried about, Bob."

THE seemingly mild suggestion startled Tait. "You—you're not giving me warnings, are you?"

"Of course not," Harris Rogers laughed disparagingly. "It's just a friendly tip. And, frankly, it's for my sake as well as yours."

"I see . . ." Tait drew cigars from his pocket and offered the pack to Rogers. Then, carelessly, he closed the door into the hall. Turning, he said, "Now we're getting somewhere. What's really on your mind?"

telling you, Tait, if they start investigating all over the place there'll be a bad mess of publicity. That wouldn't be good for either the girl or her business."

"Her business?"

"Of course you didn't know—but Dombey made her a partner in Swingaters. She's liable for the debts of a corporation, and there are plenty." Rogers held his palms upward. "I tried to control Lud, but he was impossible when he was on a spending spree. Never realized that the money couldn't last forever. But with luck, Tait, I can bring things into shape, keep Myrna from getting into a mess, and probably make her wealthy."

"Tait was silent a moment. Then: "I get the idea. But I don't quite see how it would help to stop investigating Dombey's murder. I'm afraid that Dannie Feeley couldn't see your argument."

"Naturally not. The police will keep on investigating. But it's a tough case. You know that. It may slide along for considerable time."

The photographer smiled. "In other words, you figure that the fewer who are 'interested,' as you put it a moment ago, the less chance of getting the reputation of Dombey and the band dirtied up."

"That is it precisely. I thought you'd see it my way."

TAIT shook his head. "But I don't see it your way, Rogers. In the first place, the most logical suspect that the police have right now is Mrs. Dombey. Until they can get some leads elsewhere she's going to have a bad time. In the second place, I'm not at all certain that she's interested in the money you can make for her with Lud's reputation and his band."

Lutheran Group Present Program

ORANGE, Oct. 10.—Children of the cradle roll department of St. John's Lutheran Sunday school and their mothers were guests at an informal tea Saturday afternoon. The party was held at Walker Memorial hall, where autumn blooms brightened the large meeting room. After an hour of getting acquainted, during which tea, orange juice and cookies were served from a beautifully decorated table, a program of songs was presented by a group of the Sunday school's "junior helpers." Following the program the children were entertained by the helpers in another room, while several talks were delivered before the mothers.

Paul Hedder, superintendent of the Sunday school, spoke on "Sunday School for Mothers" and the Rev. Kenneth L. Ahl, assistant pastor of the church and spiritual leader of the Sunday school, spoke on the cradle roll department.

DRIVE CAREFULLY -SAVE A LIFE-

DAINGEROUS MEASURE

Indicative of how dangerous business men of Orange county consider the Single Tax Measure to their future welfare is the personnel of the executive board of the Property Owners' Association. This organization, which also is known as the "Orange County Tax Council," is composed of many of the most prominent men in the county. They have banded together in an effort to protect their interests against unjust and "crack-pot" legislation, included among which is the Single Tax Measure.

Literature, based on extensive investigations and much research work, is being sent to the voters of the county, urging them to vote against the Sales Tax repeal, the hidden joker in the Single Tax Measure.

The association urges the voters to "defeat the most dangerous and drastic tax law ever offered" and goes on to say:

"The passage of the 'Single Tax' amendment in California would mean nothing short of dire calamity to this State—to you and your family—to every citizen of California who makes his living by the use of his brains or by the sweat of his brow.

"The 'Single Tax' amendment would place the bulk of the tax burden on land. The rancher, unable to regulate the price of his produce would be ruined by this tax. The storeowner, staggering under double and trebled rents, would be forced out of business. Hotel and apartment house owners would be compelled to boost their rentals far above present levels in order to stay in business. The small home owner, financing the home of his dreams, would undoubtedly lose his home or his equity.

"If you own no property, you will not be exempt from the tragic effects of such legislation. You will pay more than your full share should this amendment be passed, and if you should be one of the few workers to still hold a job, the great advance in rents and in essential commodities would force you to increase your living costs to a prohibitive degree.

"Do you want such a Tax Law in your state?"

"PURGE" A FAILURE

The President's "purge" of recalcitrants in the Democratic Party has been an almost complete failure. That fact is now admitted by friends as well as enemies of the New Deal.

Every important Senator against whom Mr. Roosevelt spoke in his recent sweep about the country has been renominated, and in every case by a handsome margin. The President apparently was especially eager to get rid of Senators George, Tydings and Smith, all of whom have opposed various White House sponsored measures, including the famous judicial reorganization bill. Senator Smith won with hardly a struggle. Senator George was renominated easily over a field of three, and the President's candidate, Lawrence Camp, ran a poor third. And Senator Tydings was given an overwhelming accolade by Maryland voters.

Some men close to the White House say that Mr. Roosevelt was not surprised, that he did not expect his purge would succeed, and did not especially care, and that he looks on it as being simply the opening gun in a long-pull struggle to rid his party of congressmen whom he feels are not liberal. This may or may not be true. What is definitely true is that the failure of the purge has weakened tremendously Mr. Roosevelt's political prestige and authority.

Had the purge been a success, Mr. Roosevelt would have completely dominated the next Democratic convention. Ninety out of a hundred delegates would have gone to it with but one mind—to vote as the President dictated. He could have had himself renominated for a third term, or had he not wished that, dictated the choice of his successor. Now, however, there seems to be at least an even chance that the next Democratic convention, while it will not be anti-Roosevelt will not be controlled by the President. The unpurged Senators will control large blocs of voters. They will have a strong following of men who are resentful of White House dictation. Furthermore, the fact that the purge has failed undoubtedly will encourage other congressmen, who have been sitting on the fence waiting to see how matters turned out, to bolt the traces.

It now remains to be seen whether Mr. Roosevelt can regain the prestige he has lost. He has arisen from serious defeats before, but this is the most damaging blow he has yet received. And there seems to be little chance that he can regain his once iron-clad authority over the Congress.

AMERICA AND WORLD TRADE

(New York Times)

The unusually rapid decline in sterling exchange, and the very large gold shipments to the United States, have been properly ascribed to the agitated transfer of foreign capital to the United States, when war seemed imminent. But the change in the merchandise trade balance had started the break in sterling even before the war scare became acute. The Commerce Department's report on our foreign trade in August shows that, during the eight completed months of 1938, excess of exports was no less than $781,363,000, or much the largest for the period since 1921 and double the export excess of any year but one, whereas the same eight months of 1937 had produced an import excess of $112,526,000. As has frequently been pointed out, this extraordinary contrast was made possible almost wholly by reduction of $926,888,000 in the period's imports.

Who was hit hardest by this sweeping reduction of our foreign purchases? The largest reduction was in raw materials of manufacture, measuring the reaction in our trade; next to this, in foodstuffs, of which our imports were large in the home shortage of supplies early in 1937, whereas we have today an exceptionally large supply of our own home products. Conditions being what they were, our purchase of finished foreign manufactures was reduced nearly $100,000,000. All this might be supposed to have affected every quarter of the world from which we import merchandise, and this week's report of our August trade by countries bears out the expectation. During that month alone we imported from Europe $18,540,000 less than in 1937; from South America, $12,102,000 less; from other countries in North America, $10,652,000. In the case of Asia, our reduction of imports for the month was no less than $37,200,000.

Such decrease of purchasing power, in what was to

GREAT DECREASE IN PRODUCTION OF FOOD STUFFS

Congressman Samuel B. Pettengill, in his book, "Jefferson, the Forgotten Man," says:

"Indices of World Production of Foodstuffs" from the World Economic Survey of the League of Nations, using 1925-29 as 100, show that world production of foodstuffs for the years 1923, 1920, 1932, 1934, 1935, rose to 103, 104, 106, 106, 104. American production of foodstuffs for these same years, using the same basis of 1925-29 as 100, fell to 91, 96, 68, 66, 76.

"So while we were reducing our production of foodstuffs to two-thirds or three-quarters of the 1925-29 average, the world outside of the United States was producing more than during the base period, and selling their surplus to us, as recent import figures have demonstrated. Of course, some of this was due to the severe drouths of recent years."

And we call this national planning! The Republicans and Democrats should bow their heads in shame for laws that bring about a condition like this. If there ever was a need for a new party that stood for an approach to free enterprise and against all special privileges and all government meddling and interference with production and insist that the government only attempt to prevent aggression from within and without, it is now—with the record of reduced production, idleness and a growth of political bureaucracies.

W. P. A. HOURLY WAGE INCREASE

The new wage schedule that will pay up as high as $1.50 for W. P. A. work seems anything but consistent. It is hard to comprehend why the Federal Government should show discrimination among its citizens in furnishing rates of pay. If the work is created for the sole purpose of furnishing just a sustenance for someone, there certainly is no need for paying one more than another. If any individual on the W. P. A. thinks he is worth more than the minimum wage, let him go into private enterprise and get it.

It is undemocratic, un-American for the government to discriminate in relief or in made-work. It is just more politics of trying to buy votes. There might be some kick back to it, however because it is difficult to explain to any man who receives the minimum why there should be discrimination in wages, even if the work done is not the same. If those who are getting $1.50 are worth it, let them get it from private enterprise and not from the government on a made-work basis.

NO ACCIDENT

When a country has good times, it is not an accident; neither can bad times be accidental. They are the result of very definite causes.

Now with more people being supported by the government than ever in our history, there is a very definite cause for this condition. And the sooner the voters realize who is to blame for millions of people being out of work, the sooner the conditions will be corrected.

The primary cause of course is laws and public opinion that interfere with the natural exchange of labor. The laws reflect public opinion. Public opinion is slow to change and, unless the public is protected by the foresight of great students of social relations, under such covenants as the Ten Commandments or the Constitution, great poverty and suffering is necessary in order to cause people to realize their mistakes. As Grover Cleveland said, "The public will only learn from an object lesson."

Those who contend that more and more legislation is needed to raise the standard of living do not seem to realize that the government in itself creates practically no wealth. Practically all wealth in the past has been created by private enterprise and laws that interfere with private initiative produce bad times. Laws that do not interfere with private enterprise, as far as creating wealth is concerned, but prevent aggression from within and without, are the kind of laws that are naturally followed by prosperity and a high standard of living.

most of those nations their most profitable market was bound to emphasize such reaction as had over-taken them from other causes. The scope of decrease in the foreign purchases of the community which Mr. Chamberlain, addressing Parliament, described as "the most powerful nation in the world," indicates also what will happen when recovery in the home and foreign trade of the United States is under way.

WOMEN'S WEALTH INCREASING

(Council Bluffs Nonpareil)

In 1901 the average length of life of women in the United States was about 51 years and for men about 48 years. Now women average a little over 64 years and men about 60 years. (These figures apply only to members of the white race).

Insurance companies recognize the greater longevity of women in figuring annuities. It costs as much to purchase an annuity of $50 per month for a woman of 54 as it does for a man of 50. Actually they will live the same length of time.

In 1930 there were 102.5 males to 100 females in the United States as compared with 104 in 1920 and 106 in 1910. Probably the percentage of males to females will show another drop when the 1940 census is taken because women are living longer.

There are more than twice as many widows as widowers, but this is not entirely the result of longevity. Men are much more likely to remarry than women.

However, the greater longevity of women does have a great deal to do with the fact that their share of the national wealth is constantly increasing. Wealth tends to drift to those who live longest. Women inherit most of the property that men leave and are the beneficiaries of nearly all the insurance policies.

Wealth held by women of all economic groups has probably increased enormously in recent years though the total wealth of the country has decreased.

Women who inherit or expect to inherit property tend to become more conservative. They naturally desire to protect their holdings.

If ever the wives and widows of the country come to a realization of what business baiting is doing to their property they will make short work of radicalism.

The 5,000,000 widows, most of whom have inherited some property, could easily swing an election. Here is something the politicians may well ponder.

'And How About All This Stuff?'

Register Clearing House

"It is for each of us to utter that which he sincerely believes to be true and add his unit of influence to all other units of influence and let the results work themselves out."—Spencer. Contributors are urged to confine their articles to 300 words.

Editor Register:

Commenting on what he chooses to call the "single tax" amendment (No. 20 on the ballot in the coming November election), a contributor to the "Clearing House Column" of your issue of Sept. 30th says:

"If wage and salary workers who live in rented houses knew as tax experts know how this would ultimately raise rents and oppress them with new forms of taxation, deprive them of social benefits, and crowd them onto small lots, they too, would join the land owners in opposition."

The contributor does not enlighten his readers as to who his tax experts are, nor does he put forward any argument, in support of this rather dogmatic statement as to the dire consequences to follow, according to him, the adoption of this tax relief measure. In thus failing, his statement might well be ignored were it not for the fact that when the taxing of land values is first suggested to the average voter as a remedy for the monopolization of land, the first thought that occurs to him is that the landowner would, as your contributor contends, merely add such tax to the rent of the land, as the merchant adds the tax assessed on his stock to the price he charges his customers.

The reason that makes this possible in the case of personal property does not exist with regard to land. The first effect of a tax imposed on commodities or other personal property is to lessen the customary reward of those engaged in their production and distribution. This results in checking production. The supply being diminished, the price of such commodities rises to a point that equals the amount of the tax. To tax personal property thus tends to take it off the market. To tax land values tends to throw more land on the market. To increase the tax on land values cannot result in diminishing the quantity of land and thereby increasing its rental value, for it is fixed in quantity and cannot be increased or decreased.

There being more land than can be used for generations to come, the increased tax will make it unprofitable for the owners to hold lands unused and unimproved, but will cause such lands to be thrown upon the market to compete with the lands already in use, thus tending to reduce the rental value of all lands.

No accredited political economist, so far as I know, teaches that to increase the tax upon land values results in increasing the rental value or the price of land.

So the house renter, whether he be a poor man or a rich one, need not fear, by the adoption of this amendment, that the rent on the property he occupies will thereby be increased.

If a tax upon land values can be shifted to the user of the land, your contributor contends, how comes it that the landlords are opposing it, as he himself admits. Many landlords, however, are opposing this amendment, when in truth in their own interests they should be in favor of it. No landowner will suffer, on the whole, any loss unless the annual rental value of his lands (not including improvements on the land) exceeds his income from his personal services.

limit to the kind of business that is permissible except that it must be done as a public service. Numerous projects have been launched in the northwest under similar authority. The Crayne creek irrigation project in Washington county, Idaho, bonded a large acreage of valuable grazing land. It failed. And the failure forfeited to the land owners every forty acre unit of their land that contained so much of a fraction of an acre under the ditches.

A small town lawyer got himself elected to the Oregon legislature. He got the legislature to enact a law providing for the creation of irrigation districts.

He went back to his home county with that law. He got two irrigation districts organized. He got himself appointed as attorney for them and his brother as the project engineer.

The Paradise district levied a preliminary tax of $1.00 an acre on a large body of land. This went for his fees and engineering. The project folded up and quit. The Butler creek district progressed farther. The attorney got himself a job by the year at $5000 and his brother a yearly job at $6000. He got a job for a pal as secretary at $5000 a year. One of his backers went over across the Yellow Jacket mountains and bought a small tract of land on Comas creek for $50. He turned this in to the district for $50,000 in district bonds. Water for irrigation was to come from this creek through a tunnel under the mountains.

They set the Warren Construction Co. to dig the tunnel but soon ran out of funds and blew up. That ended the Butler creek project. It was also the finish of the land owners under the project.

Another group of speculators got a bill enacted by the legislature that authorized the state to guarantee the interest for five years on any irrigation project that the state board of control would o. k. The Grants Pass (Oregon) Irrigation district got this guarantee. It let its construction contract on a cost plus basis. It defaulted on its bond interest. It didn't even pay maintenance costs.

It was run through the wringer under a compromise that our Federal Municipal Bankruptcy act made possible. It left the bondholders 18 cents on the dollar.

The motor busses knocked the profit out of the street railway system of Seattle. It sold out to the people at a special election. Its owners got good money. Seattle got a white elephant.

What, therefore, could be expected under the Garrison Act which authorizes such possibilities in every local government of the state and in any new ones that are conceivable?

News Behind The News

By PAUL MALLON

World Copyright 1938, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 10. — It wasn't a purge in the agriculture department this time; just a chess move, and a clever one.

Bishop Tolley was moved over into the king row; Rook Evans was pushed in to sweep the AAA line; Knight Black was cased back to defend a few unsupported pawns. It put King Wallace in a little stronger position.

Official advertising of the play as "a drastic shake-up presaging a change of policy" is good administration propaganda with the congressional elections less than a month off and trouble in the farm belt, but only that.

Chess kibitzers here call it a defensive realignment. They notice that one occurs in the agriculture department every time threats of trouble develop in the farm belt.

Those who are capable of describing official motives, authoritatively offer this inner version of the latest New Deal reorganization:

The AAA section has been functioning as a separate entity up to now. It is full of fresh-blown New Dealers who do not get along too well with the old timers in the department of agriculture. These latter are experienced hold-overs from old Republican and Democratic administrations and have been known to snicker behind their hands at some of the mistakes committed by said fresh-blown AAA'ers.

A revision of leadership was necessary, they say, to weld both organizations into one slightly scarred family under Mr. Wallace's parental rule. Now there will be hearty cooperation and efficient service—they hope.

A less authoritative but perhaps more revealing explanation may be found in the complaints now reaching congressional desks from farmers. These say AAA county agents tell them to do one thing, which in certain occasions turned out to be wrong, while D of A agents have told them other things, which also seem to be just as bad.

For instance, a Georgia senator's office has received evidence that an AAA county agent has come around to a Georgia farmer and found his cotton acreage was three acres over. The farmer was required to plow up those three acres, but later official information indicated this was not necessary.

At the recent conference of southern cotton senators, a South Carolina farmer submitted evidence he had been misled as to the subsidy.

It can be proved also that a middle west farmer was told upon apparent official authority he would get $130 for complying with the farm program, but he got only $20. On the basis of this evidence, no one is objecting to Mr. Wallace switching personnel.

Gold Problem and Its Causes

By WALTER E. SPAHR

Professor of Economics, New York University

A great number of our people know that the gold stock of this country now exceeds thirteen billion dollars, and that we are the greatest hoarders of gold in the world.

With increasing frequency we see comments on our gold problem. Why did we accumulate so much gold? What are we going to do with this huge supply? What is the solution to this gold problem?

The principal reason why the United States has accumulated so much gold is because our government, in 1933-1934, placed an excessively high price on it. It may be recalled that we paid $20.67 per ounce of fine gold before the Administration suspended specie payments in March, 1933. After suspension, the value of our paper money in terms of gold declined rapidly. By September 20, 1933, the depreciation of our paper dollar had reached 36 per cent. Thereafter it showed signs of appreciation. But before this appreciation the value could make any headway, the government (on October 25, 1933) embarked upon the Warren monetary program of driving down still further the value of our paper money in terms of gold on the theory that this scheme would raise prices and create general prosperity. After October 25, 1933, and until January 16, 1934, the government persistently raised the paper money price of gold (and drove down the value of the dollar) until the price of an ounce of fine gold was $34.45. On January 31, 1934, the President, under authority of the Gold Reserve Act of January 30, fixed the price at $35 per ounce.

This price was purely artificial, and the procedure by which it was fixed was unsound and unprecedented. Our present gold problem is largely the direct result of this unwise policy. The price of $35 per ounce of gold is so far above the real value of gold throughout the world that mines were opened in every corner of the globe, and gold poured into the United States, not only from mines but from hoards.

It should be clearly understood that when a country suspends specie payments it has no way of knowing what its inconvertible paper money is worth in terms of gold unless it permits its currency to find its natural level. There is good reason to believe that had our government let our inconvertible money seek its natural level in terms of gold we could thereafter have fixed the value of our dollar in terms of gold at a level much closer to $20.67 than to $35 per fine ounce. Proof of this lies in the fact that, although the paper money price of gold was raised 69 per cent by January 31, 1934, the average of prices of all other goods had increased only about 18 per cent. They should have been close together and would have been in time had the government not made the bad and foolish mistake of assuming that it could control prices and prosperity by manipulating the price of gold.

But the mistake has been made, and we are now swamped with gold. What are we going to do with the gold, and what are we going to do about the problem? The government has never been able to answer either of these questions. Gold is being dug up all over the world, shipped to the United States, and again buried in the ground at Fort Knox, Kentucky. Perhaps the world has never before observed a monetary phenomenon of this sort. Its absurdity should be obvious.

The problem could have been prevented and solved in advance had our government in 1933 let our currency find its natural level, and had we joined the other leading nations in stabilizing their currencies at the London Economic Conference in the summer of that year. But the President wrecked that conference in order to try the indefensible Warren monetary experiment. Since then other leading currencies, such as the British pound and French franc, have depreciated still further with the consequence that the price of gold is not only excessively high in the United States but is becoming too high in the leading countries of the world. This means that the problem of an excessive gold supply is becoming world wide and increasingly difficult to solve. Indeed, it grows clearer each day that it probably is too late to solve it now, and that the world will have to face the fact that in years to come prices will tend to reach new high levels as the gold comes out of hoards and goes into use. And had we heeded, as we are now doing it, the effects of the increased supply on prices are difficult to measure. It should also be emphasized that such a hoard supply is no guarantee against currency inflation.

Governments should put competent monetary commissions to work on this problem.

It seems clear that time will show that the wrecking of the London Economic Conference in 1933 was a world catastrophe.
